Stoutsville School Transfer in Appeals Court

Writ Filed In Behalf of Residents

No Decision Due Until September Fairfield Session

A writ of mandamus demanding the transfer of the Clearcreek (Stoutsville) Local School District, Fairfield County, to the Logan Elm School District, Pickaway County, was filed yesterday in the 5th District Court of Appeals, Fairfield County.

The writ was filed by Joseph Asher, Columbus, in the name of James E. Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville, both men representing the Stoutsville Citizens Committee for Consolidation.

The writ will not be considered by the Appeals Court until September 16, when it meets in the Fairfield County seat, Lancaster, unless other action, which is possible, is taken now.

Attorney Asher, legal representative for the successful New Holland School District interests in their fight to transfer into the Miami Trace School District, Fayette County, filed the writ prior to leaving for a two-week vacation in Buffalo, N. Y., today.

THE WRIT maintains that it is a clear legal duty for the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Stoutsville and surrounding school district territory to Logan Elm.

Asher also petitioned the 5th District Appeals Court for an alternative writ of mandamus. If allowed, this would mean that the Fairfield Board either sign over the territory now or show cause why it did not when the court meets September 16.

Refusal to comply with the court order and failure to show cause could result in a fine for the Fairfield Board of Education.

Smith's writ states that on Mar. 29, 1958 the Fairfield Board received a petition containing 403 signatures (55 per cent) of persons who were qualified residents and electors of the Clearcreek District.

The petition asked that the Fairfield Board transfer the Stoutsville school district to Pickaway County.

The Fairfield Board certified the transfer proposal to the Fairfield County Board of Elections on May 22, 1958.

IN THE FOLLOWING November, 1958 election a total of 339 Clearcreek voters balloted in favor of the transfer and 226 cast ballots against such merger. This was a majority vote of 55.9 per cent, more than enough needed for the transfer.

The writ further states that the Fairfield Board did not contest the election. On April 17 the Logan Elm Board accepted the Clearcreek School District.

The Pickaway County Board of Education accepted Clearcreek on May 6 and filed an accurate map of the boundaries of the district with proper authorities.

Earlier the Fairfield Board disapproved the transfer of the Clearcreek district on March 3. It based its refusal on the opinion that the November, 1958 election was not duly and legally constituted.

It referred to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot", which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek Board of Education, which voted 3-2 against consolidation.

Asher contends that the Clearcreek voters balloted with the intent to transfer to Logan Elm and were not concerned with how it would be done. He stated that the Fairfield Board was arguing on a "mere" technicality.

LOGAN ELM and Pickaway County Board of Education have taken a "hands off" attitude stating that until the Clearcreek District is legally transferred into its jurisdiction they have no authority.

But school officials have stated that they are especially anxious to see the territory transferred so that they can start merger work and begin to map plans for the opening of the school in September.

Circleville, Orient Seek Election Expense Relief

The City of Circleville and the Village of Orient yesterday filed writs of mandamus with the Pickaway County Clerk of Court's office for a reapportionment of Nov. 5, 1957 elections expenses.

Orient's petition was filed by legal counsel, Richard W. Penn, 114 1/2 N. Court St. Circleville's writ was filed by City Solicitor Robert H. Huffer.

Huffer and Penn maintain that the board failed to apportion 1957 general election expenses proportionally among political subdivisions with questions, issues or candidates appearing on that ballot. If the County Common Pleas Court enforces the writs, Circleville would be reimbursed $1,778.31 and the City school system would owe $871.92 for the 1957 general election.

THE WRITS are based on a recent Attorney General's opinion in the matter of establishing Orient village as a separate political subdivision.

The opinion stated, "The cost per precinct at each election shall be prorated by the election board to the subdivisions conducting elections for the nomination or election of officers in such precinct."

The writ filed by Circleville states that the city was asked to pay $2,952.44 on Feb. 18, 1958 for the 1957 general election.

"This sum was withheld from the tax monies due the City by the County Auditor," the petition continues. The Orient writ maintains that $244.60 was withheld from Orient tax monies for 1957 election expenses. The total chargeable items of the 1957 general election which were used to determine the cost per precinct were:

Judges and clerks, $5,400; rent, $190; janitor, $35; ballots—judicial and non-partisan, $157.72; state amendments, $377.16;

POLL BOOKS for 45 precincts, $855; absentee ballots, $22.50; board of education ballots, $577.48; municipal ballots, $411.66; township ballots, $386.79;

Returns, $90; mileage, $80; advertising bids for ballots, $6.05; advertising proclamation of election, $9.65; advertising state amendments, $157.47; and miscellaneous, $0.52, for a total election expense of $8,757.

The number of participating precincts was divided into the total cost for an average per precinct of $194.60. Huffer maintains that Circleville conducted an election of officers at 15 of the 45 precincts.

The Circleville petition states that at these same 15 precincts the City school system conducted an election of officers. It states that by virtue of these facts, the election board should have apportioned equally the election expenses of $2,919 as follows: $973 to Circleville Twp.; $973 to the City, and $973 to City school district.

In addition to these charges, the petition states that the City should have been charged the cost of advertising for ballots for a special election conducted the same day of $201.13.

The City's petition states it should have been charged only $1,174.13 for the 1957 general election instead of $2,919.

Orient maintains the $194.60 charged should have been equally charged as follows: $64.87 to Scioto Twp.; $64.87 to Orient, and $64.86 to the Teays Valley School District.

THE PETITION further states that the $23.10 cost of advertising for ballots for a special election held on the same day should be charged to it for a total cost of $87.97 instead of the $244.60 it was actually charged.

Both Huffer and Penn feel that the school boards of their respective districts were not billed for their rightful share of the election expense.

Circleville was charged $2,952.44 for the 1957 general election while the City school board paid $140.

Orient paid the full $244.60 while the school district paid nothing in the Orient precinct.

Penn earlier requested the County election board to reapportion the election expenses but was refused. He threatened court action at that time.

According to the two attorneys, the apportionment of expense applies to all school districts, townships and villages throughout the county.

NAMED IN THE writs as defendants were election board members Tom A. Renick, George A. Fissell, Virgil May and Harold Beavers, board chairman; Mrs. James Trimmer, election board clerk, and Mrs. Marvinne H. Rhoades, County Auditor.

An election board spokesman stated today that the board was following long established practice in apportioning expenses and had checked with other counties and found they are following the same procedure.

County Prosecutor Ray W. Davis has asked an attorney general's opinion on the matter of odd-year election expenses but has heard nothing.

How long may you expect expanding periods of the economy to last?

The National Bureau of Economic Research has made very complete studies of business cycles, dating back more than 100 years. In the 25 cycles over that period the expanding phase lasted an average of nearly 30 (actually 29.9) months.

Thus, if the current expansion just matched the average, it would reach a peak in October, 1960. A contraction would follow.

In the three business cycles since World War II, however, the expansion phase has been longer than average.

The upward move lasted 37 months from October, 1945 to November, 1948, a longer 45 months from October, 1949 to July, 1953 and a smaller 35 months from August, 1954 to July, 1957.

Herter To Seek Reasonable Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took off today for the Big Four talks at Geneva with a pledge to strive for "a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin."

But, Herter said, he has "no great expectations for success" and that bargaining with the

Russians requires "infinite patience and long labor."

Herter spoke at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., near Washington, just before soaring away in a brand new jet plane, a giant military version of the Boeing 707 airliner. It was one of three bought for President Eisenhower and other top officials. Herter's flight is the first official use of the new craft.

Aides said the U.S. foreign affairs chief is not ruling out the possibility of at least a temporary agreement on the cold war crisis issue at the second round of the foreign ministers' conference. Such an agreement could pave the way for a summit meeting later in the year.

"My colleagues of France and the United Kingdom and I will strive, as we did before, to reach a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin," Herter said in his airport statement.

"We go to Geneva resolved, as before, to negotiate in good faith, and equally determined to maintain our obligations to the more than two million free people of West Berlin."

"Before I left for the first series of discussions in Geneva I said I had no great expectations for success. Negotiations with the Soviet Union require infinite patience and long labor. That remains my view as we approach the second series of discussions."

"I am confident that the same close unity among the Western Allies which brightened our work at Geneva will again prevail."

Herter, who talked with President Eisenhower and other top officials Friday, planned to make his first stop in Ottawa today.

In the Canadian capital he will confer with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Foreign Secretary Howard Green.

U.S. Solon's Pacifist Son Lands in Jail

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A pacifist demonstration against a missile base site has brought a six months federal jail sentence to the 22-year-old son of a Vermont congressman.

Sentenced to serve the six months, and to pay a fine of $500, was Karl H. Meyer. His father is Rep. William H. Meyer, Democrat serving his first term in the House and a member of the House Foreign Relations Committee.

Young Meyer was first arrested last week when he and four other pacifists attempted to enter the Mead, Neb., missile site.

He was charged with trespassing and was sentenced to the jail term and fined. But the sentence and fine were suspended by Federal Judge Richard E. Robinson on condition Meyer stay away from the site.

Meyer went back to Mead Friday with two others of his group. He was immediately arrested and brought back before Judge Robinson.

The other two, Hiram C. Hillbridge, Evanston, Ill., and Lawrence L. Shum, Seattle, Wash. were held on bond for a court appearance next week.

Rep. Meyer, in Washington, said he was fully aware of his son's activities and in sympathy with Karl's desire for world peace.

Small-Town Banker Kills Stickup Man

Cashier, 31, Gets Made at Death Threats

ECLECTIC, Ala. (AP)—A young small-town banker early today shot and killed one holdup man and wounded another who had kidnapped a policeman and robbed a bank of $250.

Before he shot the two bandits, Carl Ray Barker, 31, subdued one of them by throwing scalding water in his face and beating him on the head with the robber's own pistol.

Barker is cashier and general manager of the Bank of Eclectic.

He killed the other bandit with a shotgun charge in the chest and seriously wounded the scalded, badly beaten holdup man with a charge of No. 4 birdshot in the hip.

The dead man was identified by papers in his wallet as James Franklin Bray, 25, of Montgomery. Taken to Kilby Prison at Montgomery in serious condition from loss of blood and other injuries was a man who gave the name of William D. Hayward, 26, also of Montgomery.

The two holdup men kidnapped city policeman Maxie Taunton after asking him to drive them out on a highway where they could hitchhike a ride.

The officer said one of the bandits had put a gun at the back of his head while he was driving, took his own gun from him, and ordered him to drive to the banker's home.

At Barker's home, the bandits ordered Taunton to summon the bank official to the door by telling him it was the police. They forced their way into the house and held the policeman, Barker, and the banker's pregnant wife and 3-year-old daughter captive. Bray then forced Barker to accompany him to the bank while the other holdup man stayed in the house and stood guard over the captives.

The time lock on the bank vault was set to open at 8:30 a.m. and Bray couldn't budge it, so he grabbed a sack containing $250 in nickels and dimes.

After Bray and Barker had returned to the banker's home, the holdup man took Taunton back downtown with him to get tape so he could tie the hostages until the bank vault was opened.

Barker said he suggested a cup of coffee while he and his family waited for Hayward, but that he made only boiling water. Returning from the kitchen, he splashed the scalding water in Hayward's face when the bandit held out his cup. Then Barker seized the bandit's revolver and beat him into submission with the weapon.

When Bray and the policeman returned to the house, the banker had loaded a shotgun and was waiting for them at the front door. Taunton opened the door and then jumped to safety as Barker shot Bray in the chest at pointblank range. The banker had wounded the other holdup man a short time earlier when he refused to obey a command, after the beating, to move from one room to another.

Barker said he was frightened during the ordeal but that he was more mad than anything else. "I got sure-enough mad," he added, "when the big one (Bray) kept talking about killing us."

Eclectic is a small community about 35 miles northeast of Montgomery.

Probe chairman John R. McClellan (D-Ark) reviewed Friday testimony that Hoffa made deals with favored employers and bargained away take home pay of rank and file teamsters.

That, said McClellan, was "ratting and cheating on these hard-working people." As to Hoffa's often-voiced charge that the racketeers committee is antiunion, McClellan said:

"The real union busters are the cheats and the frauds we've exposed."

The strike-breaking charge came from Wally Butler, president of a Department Store Workers Union local in Detroit, Hoffa's home city.

Butler testified that Hoffa's teamsters have been used on at least one secret strike breaking mission in Detroit to defeat a walkout of employees of a bottling plant.

Members of the coaching staff of the South All-Ohio football squad were slated to hold an informal meeting at Circleville High School today.

Carl Benhase, Circleville's new football coach and a member of the South coaching staff, is host for the meeting. The staff is composed of Bron Bacevich, head coach, and Benhase, Andy Miller and Joe Cochran as assistants.

The annual North-South game is slated August 15 in Canton. It will feature the cream of Ohio high school gridirers who performed last year.

More Dems Fire at Butler

Party Chiefs Blast At Congress Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Democratic senators added their voices today to swelling criticism of National Chairman Paul Butler for his attacks on party congressional leaders.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) and Gale W. McGee (D-Wyo.) stoutly defended the course Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has taken in attempting to tailor legislation to avoid presidential vetoes. Sparkman, Jackson and McGee are rated as liberals on most issues.

Butler will get a chance at an afternoon news conference to comment further on his previously expressed view that the party's congressional leaders are compromising with the GOP administration too often and thus are not welding a program on which the Democrats can win in 1960.

Sparkman, the 1952 vice Presidential nominee, wrote Johnson that what he called Butler's attack "on the record of the Democratic Congress generally and on the Democratic leadership specifically is unjustified and most unfortunate."

"The Congress is right to take into consideration the views of the executive branch," Sparkman said. "We would be wrong to strive only for issues and to disregard the importance of enacting greatly needed legislation."

"Just because the President and his advisers have chosen to play politics with the people's welfare does not make it wise or advisable for a Democratic Congress to do likewise."

Jackson said he thinks Butler used poor judgment in broadcasting on television an attack on the leaders. He said it was pretty late for the national chairman to try to explain them away.

"If he had these complaints in mind the first place to air them was with the leaders and not over TV," Jackson said. "So far as I know he has never registered any of his complaints with Democratic members of Congress."

McGee said in a separate interview he regards Butler's tactics as unfortunate.

"In the first place the record of the Democratic Senate is good this far and, in the second place, we haven't completed our work yet," he said.

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—This city's 14 rebel police officers say they have been offered bribes to stop raiding gambling spots.

The bribe offers were reported Friday. Another series of raids Thursday brought one arrest and uncovered gambling devices in two more places.

The policemen have carried out most of their raids without first notifying either Police Chief Stanley Switter or Mayor Edgar L. Lash.

Lindsey Can't Run For Council Seat

In accordance with instructions issued by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown the Pickaway County Board of Elections rejected the candidacy of Gene B. Lindsey, 119 Collins Court, for the November general election.

Lindsey, a local baker at 127 W. Main St., filed a nominating petition for City Councilman-at-large. He failed to submit a statement of expenditures after the May primary election and for this reason was ruled off the November ballot.

Secretary Brown, in a statement issued March 1, said that filing a statement of expenses is a prerequisite to the issuance of a certificate of nomination when there is no primary election.

Only two races were held in the primary, those in Wards 2 and 3 for Democratic councilman. Lindsey did not have to run in the primary but still was required to file a statement of expenses.

BROWN HELD THAT this requirement must be upheld because candidates may purchase items such as printing and circulate nominating papers even though they are not required to run in a primary.

There has been much discussion over Lindsey's rejection. Some political and legal personalities maintain that Lindsey did not have to file a statement of expenditures because there was no primary.

An inspection of past occurrences of this type finds little reference to such an incident or rulings or opinions by higher courts or the Attorney General's office.

How long may you expect expanding periods of the economy to last?

The National Bureau of Economic Research has made very complete studies of business cycles, dating back more than 100 years. In the 25 cycles over that period the expanding phase lasted an average of nearly 30 (actually 29.9) months.

Thus, if the current expansion just matched the average, it would reach a peak in October, 1960. A contraction would follow.

In the three business cycles since World War II, however, the expansion phase has been longer than average.

The upward move lasted 37 months from October, 1945 to November, 1948, a longer 45 months from October, 1949 to July, 1953 and a smaller 35 months from August, 1954 to July, 1957.

Herter To Seek Reasonable Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter took off today for the Big Four talks at Geneva with a pledge to strive for "a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin."

But, Herter said, he has "no great expectations for success" and that bargaining with the

Russians requires "infinite patience and long labor."

Herter spoke at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., near Washington, just before soaring away in a brand new jet plane, a giant military version of the Boeing 707 airliner. It was one of three bought for President Eisenhower and other top officials. Herter's flight is the first official use of the new craft.

Aides said the U.S. foreign affairs chief is not ruling out the possibility of at least a temporary agreement on the cold war crisis issue at the second round of the foreign ministers' conference. Such an agreement could pave the way for a summit meeting later in the year.

"My colleagues of France and the United Kingdom and I will strive, as we did before, to reach a reasonable agreement with the Soviet Union on the problems of Germany and Berlin," Herter said in his airport statement.

"We go to Geneva resolved, as before, to negotiate in good faith, and equally determined to maintain our obligations to the more than two million free people of West Berlin."

"Before I left for the first series of discussions in Geneva I said I had no great expectations for success. Negotiations with the Soviet Union require infinite patience and long labor. That remains my view as we approach the second series of discussions."

"I am confident that the same close unity among the Western Allies which brightened our work at Geneva will again prevail."

Herter, who talked with President Eisenhower and other top officials Friday, planned to make his first stop in Ottawa today.

In the Canadian capital he will confer with Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Foreign Secretary Howard Green.

U.S. Solon's Pacifist Son Lands in Jail

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—A pacifist demonstration against a missile base site has brought a six months federal jail sentence to the 22-year-old son of a Vermont congressman.

Sentenced to serve the six months, and to pay a fine of $500, was Karl H. Meyer. His father is Rep. William H. Meyer, Democrat serving his first term in the House and a member of the House Foreign Relations Committee.

Young Meyer was first arrested last week when he and four other pacifists attempted to enter the Mead, Neb., missile site.

He was charged with trespassing and was sentenced to the jail term and fined. But the sentence and fine were suspended by Federal Judge Richard E. Robinson on condition Meyer stay away from the site.

Meyer went back to Mead Friday with two others of his group. He was immediately arrested and brought back before Judge Robinson.

The other two, Hiram C. Hillbridge, Evanston, Ill., and Lawrence L. Shum, Seattle, Wash., were held on bond for a court appearance next week.

Rep. Meyer, in Washington, said he was fully aware of his son's activities and in sympathy with Karl's desire for world peace.

Signs Point To Increased Cost of Living

Developments in Fall Labeled as Normal For Boom Period

NEW YORK (AP)—You probably will find living even more expensive this autumn.

Signs that prices of some of the things you buy — things like clothing and houses — are headed higher appeared on the business scene this week.

These are normal developments during a boom period, and there was no doubt that the country's economy was booming.

A check of resident buying offices in New York City disclosed that prices this autumn will be higher on fur coats, men's suits, rugs and hand bags, among other items.

These buying offices order goods which later are put on retail counters in hundreds of department stores throughout the country.

A big shoe manufacturer raised wholesale prices 3 per cent on all but one of its lines this week. Others are expected to follow.

A week or so ago prices of men's shirts which stores will be carrying this autumn were advanced.

Engineering News-Record and Construction Daily reported its building cost index—which measures wages for skilled building trades and prices for key materials such as lumber—has gone to a record high this month.

When it costs more to build houses, it usually costs more to buy houses.

Price hikes are an unpleasant aspect of the boom. This boom continued to roll along during the week and found reflection in a stock market which advanced to record highs on several days.

Stock sales in the latest week totaled 18,719,665 shares compared to 12,957,220 shares in the week before and 12,510,255 in the same 1958 week. Bond sales in the latest week had a par value of $29,128,000 against $23,409,000 in the previous week and $23,806,500 in the corresponding week last year.

Business has moved up since April, 1958, now generally conceded to have been the low point of the recession. In other words, we are now in the fifteenth month of expansion in the business cycle.

How long may you expect expanding periods of the economy to last?

The National Bureau of Economic Research has made very complete studies of business cycles, dating back more than 100 years. In the 25 cycles over that period the expanding phase lasted an average of nearly 30 (actually 29.9) months.

Writ Filed In Behalf of Residents

No Decision Due Until September Fairfield Session

A writ of mandamus demanding the transfer of the Clearcreek (Stoutsville) Local School District, Fairfield County, to the Logan Elm School District, Pickaway County, was filed yesterday in the 5th District Court of Appeals, Fairfield County.

The writ was filed by Joseph Asher, Columbus, in the name of James E. Smith, Route 1, Stoutsville, both men representing the Stoutsville Citizens Committee for Consolidation.

The writ will not be considered by the Appeals Court until September 16, when it meets in the Fairfield County seat, Lancaster, unless other action, which is possible, is taken now.

Attorney Asher, legal representative for the successful New Holland School District interests in their fight to transfer into the Miami Trace School District, Fayette County, filed the writ prior to leaving for a two-weeks vacation in Buffalo, N. Y., today.

THE WRIT maintains that it is a clear legal duty for the Fairfield County Board of Education to transfer the Stoutsville and surrounding school district territory to Logan Elm.

Asher also petitioned the 5th District Appeals Court for an alternative writ of mandamus. If allowed, this would mean that the Fairfield Board either sign over the territory now or show cause why it did not when the court meets September 16.

Refusal to comply with the court order and failure to show cause could result in a fine for the Fairfield Board of Education.

Smith's writ states that on Mar. 29, 1958 the Fairfield Board received a petition containing 403 signatures (55 per cent) of persons who were qualified residents and electors of the Clearcreek District.

The petition asked that the Fairfield Board transfer the Stoutsville school district to Pickaway County.

The Fairfield Board certified the transfer proposal to the Fairfield County Board of Elections on May 22, 1958.

IN THE FOLLOWING November, 1958 election a total of 339 Clearcreek voters balloted in favor of the transfer and 226 cast ballots against such merger. This was a majority vote of 55.9 per cent, more than enough needed for the transfer.

The writ further states that the Fairfield Board did not contest the election. On April 17 the Logan Elm Board accepted the Clearcreek School District.

The Pickaway County Board of Education accepted Clearcreek on May 6 and filed an accurate map of the boundaries of the district with proper authorities.

Earlier the Fairfield Board disapproved the transfer of the Clearcreek district on March 3. It based its refusal on the opinion that the November, 1958 election was not duly and legally constituted.

It referred to what it termed "false and misleading representation of the issue on the ballot", which stated that the transfer was subject to the acceptance by the Clearcreek Board of Education, which voted 3-2 against consolidation.

Asher contends that the Clearcreek voters balloted with the intent to transfer to Logan Elm and were not concerned with how it would be done. He stated that the Fairfield Board was arguing on a "mere" technicality.

LOGAN ELM and Pickaway County Board of Education have taken a "hands off" attitude stating that until the Clearcreek District is legally transferred into its jurisdiction they have no authority.

But school officials have stated that they are especially anxious to see the territory transferred so that they can start merger work and begin to map plans for the opening of the school in September.

Clip and Remove Grain Stubble

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

It is generally advisable to clip the stubble and remove both the straw and stubble soon after combining. Leaving both, the standing stubble and the combined straw on the land usually results in serious injury to the new seedling.

When straw growth is not heavy, taking off the combined straw without clipping the stubble is sometimes nearly as satisfactory as clipping and removing all, but it leaves more trash in next year's hay.

When clipping alfalfa or red clover the mowing machine cutter bar should be set as low as possible. Clipping high will not control the weeds as well as clipping low, since most broad-leaved annual weeds recover from buds along the stem.

Alfalfa and red clover recover from the crown regardless of the height of clipping. When clipped during the seedling year, sweet clover does not recover from the crown. It should be cut as high as possible, if weed control makes clipping necessary before September.

LATE cut sweet clover may be cut low; it will make little or no growth during the fall months.

Spring seedlings of all legumes except sweet clover should be clipped about the middle of August, but not later than September 1 of the seedling year. This clipping results in cleaner hay and frequently in higher yields during the following year. If the growth is sufficient to cause smothering, the clipping should be removed.

Sweet clover should not be clipped or pastured during the seedling year except as noted above.

New seedlings of alfalfa and red clover may be grazed instead of clipped. Livestock should be removed as soon as the growth is eaten low. New seedlings should not be clipped or grazed after September 10. Many new seedlings are injured or destroyed by overgrazing during the seedling year.

Area Farmers Slated To Get Wheat Acreage Allotments

Wheat growers of Pickaway County can expect to receive their 1960 acreage allotments through the mail next week, Chairman Marvin G. Steely of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

There is a total of 1,622 farms with 1960 wheat acreage allotments in the county, having a combined acreage of 42,455 acres. These allotments are being mailed at this time so farmers will have them in advance of the July 23 referendum, at which growers throughout the county will decide whether to market their 1960 wheat under the same quota system that has been in effect for several years.

The 1960 farm allotment will be about the same in most cases as it was last year. It represents the individual farm's share of the national wheat allotment, which will continue next year at the minimum of 55 million acres permitted by law.

If marketing quotas go into effect for the 1960 wheat crop as a result of two-thirds approval in the coming referendum, the allotment becomes a factor in determining compliance with marketing quotas. The farmer who keeps within his allotment may market his wheat without production without penalty. The farmer who is over his allotment will ordinarily be subject to a penalty on the normal production of this excess acres.

AN EXCEPTION to this general rule is that any farmer may produce up to 15 acres of wheat without penalty. Also, a farmer with an allotment of less than 30 acres may apply for a feed wheat exemption and, if it is approved, may produce up to 30 acres of wheat to be used on the farm where grown.

The farmer who complies with his wheat allotment is eligible for price support either with or without marketing quotas in effect. The acreage allotment is also a factor of Soil Bank compliance and the determination of future wheat allotments.

Compliance with the allotment is required of any farmer participating in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank. The farmer who exceeds his allotment and produces more than 15 acres of wheat and is not participating in the feed wheat program is ineligible for Conservation Reserve payments.

For purposes of establishing future allotments, the farmer who complies with his 1960 wheat allotment receives credit for his full wheat base and thus gets credit for the acreage diverted from wheat. The farmer who exceeds his allotment receives no credit for the diverted acreage unless he stores his excess wheat under marketing quota regulations or delivers it to the government.

Any farmer who has questions about his 1960 wheat allotment should discuss them with the staff of the county office as soon as possible after the allotment is received, Chairman Steely said.

Kempton Herd Gets Official Classification

The American Jersey Cattle Club of Columbus recently announced the official classification of the registered herd of Jerseys owned by Donald Kempton and family of Williamsport.

Paul Jackson, official judge and classifier for the club, gave the Kempton Herd a final average score of 87.73 on 21 cows.

Three head rated excellent, 16 very good, and two good plus. This compares with the national average of about 84 as average score of all classified Jerseys.

For the same month (April) this herd averaged 1,103 lbs of milk testing 3.15 per cent and 56.8 lbs. of butterfat, according to official tests supervised by Ohio State University.

Help Coming Soon For Ohio Pensioners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Welfare Director Mary Gorman said today old age pensioners and the needy blind could look for additional help as soon as a new law becomes effective, 90 days after signing by the governor.

The Legislature earlier this week voted to remove the $65 monthly ceilings on pensions for the aged and blind. Sponsors estimated that average monthly payments of $55 would go to $64.50.

Mrs. Gorman told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's Cabinet meeting that aid for the disabled also would be augmented at the same time.

But she said aid for dependent children might be delayed until after Jan. 1 to arrange for necessary changes.

Since 1937 Nebraska has had only one house in its legislature, instead of the usual two of other states.

Sheep Growers Will Vote on Referendum

Chairman Marvin G. Steely of the Pickaway ASC County Committee announced today that sheep producers will have the opportunity to vote in September in a nation-wide referendum on the question of continuing to finance a market development program for wool and lambs.

The program of advertising, promotion and related activities is carried out under an agreement with the American Sheep Producers Council. It is financed by deductions from wool incentive payments earned by growers under the national wool program.

The agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year and if approved in the September referendum, will be continued for another three years. Approval requires the favorable vote of producers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum.

The new agreement, Steely said, would provide that deductions may not exceed the rates of one cent per pound for shorn wool and five cents per hundredweight for lambs that have been in effect under the original agreement.

THE REFERENDUM will extend over the entire month of September to make it as easy as possible for all growers to participate, Mr. Steely said. Ballots will be mailed to producers from the county ASC office before September 1 and may be voted and returned through September 30, 1959.

The referendum relates only to the wool and lamb market development program. It will not affect the continuation of the payment program under the three year extension of the wool act last summer.

Irish Author Ends Binge in London Jail

LONDON (AP)—Irish playwright Brendan Behan ended a wild three-day binge in a police cell this afternoon. The police charge was: "Found drunk in a public place."

His spree was a noisy nonstop performance of public and private guzzling, singing, shouting, dancing and cursing that his alarmed wife said is sending him to an early grave. Behan drinks just about anything and everything.

Some friends feared that like the Welsh poet-genius Dylan Thomas, the highly gifted Behan seemed to be reeling toward tragedy by the hospitality of friends and acquaintances.

Only Thursday his wife Beatrice pleaded over the telephone from Dublin: "Please stop risking your life when you are so ill."

His father-in-law, artist Cecil French Salkfield said: "Brendan is a very sick man. His complaint is not all due to alcohol. Even the slightest drop of the stuff makes him very ill. To buy him a drink is a form of manslaughter."

Behan's reaction to this was to lurch out of the London apartment of Irish sculptor Desmond MacNamara and bellow into the dawn: "I'll die if I don't get a drink."

Now Is the Time To Prepare For Freezing Sweet Corn

By KOLEEN K. EWING
Associate County Extension Agent
Many home kitchens these days are busy with preparing foods for freezing. Soon sweet corn will be ready to eat and to freeze.

It is important to follow simple steps in freezing to get a good quality product. Remember, freezing does not improve the quality of foods, it merely preserves quality and prevents spoilage.

When selecting corn, select only young, tender, freshly picked corn

of uniform maturity. The kernels should be full, rounded and milky. Corn should be frozen within two hours after harvesting.

To prepare corn, husk and remove silk. Trim off any injured or defective areas. Wash and scald ears of corn in boiling water for approximately 8 minutes. Remove and chill immediately. Cut corn from cob. Package corn in moisture vapor proof package and seal. Label and freeze immediately at 20 degrees to 40 degrees for best results.

FROZEN foods are very high in popularity because of their convenience. You may have seasonal products the year around with frozen foods. They add good variety to your meals.

Frozen foods closely resemble fresh foods in appearance and natural flavor. They have high nutritive value. Freezing foods is economical and it is easy and fun to do.

Wool Pay To Increase

Wool growers of Ohio will receive a payment of 70.3 cents for each dollar's worth of shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, Chairman Ted H. Breyer of the State ASC Committee announced today.

The payment rate represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average price wool growers got for their wool during the year ending last March up to the established national incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Chairman Breyer said. This is the result of relatively low prices received for wool in the last year. For 1955, the first year of the program, the shorn wool incentive payment rate was 44.9 per cent; for 1956, it was 40.0 per cent; and for 1957, 15.5 per cent.

County ASC offices expect to begin making the 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 30, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958 and March 31, 1959.

Dowden New Office Head At ASC Here

Marvin G. Steely, chairman of The Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today that J. Austin Dowden, has been hired as office manager for the committee effective July 1. He replaces the late Margaret D. Dowden.

Dowden resides in Wayne Twp. with his wife, Mildred. He has been engaged in farming for the past 23 years and is a graduate of Capital University. He has served several terms as a member of the community committee in Wayne Twp. For the past three years he has been employed as performance supervisor for Pickaway County, having complete charge of all field work.

All ASC activities in Pickaway County will be under the direction of the office manager. They include wheat allotments and marketing quotas, tobacco, price support, agricultural conservation program, wool, farm facility, administrative, conservation reserve and government bin site.

EMPLOYEES under Dowden in the county office are: Phyllis A. Hawkes, chief clerk, 343 E. Franklin St., nine years service; Mrs. Wendell Turner, Route 3, five years service; and Dorothy L. Chaffin, 363 E. Franklin St., four years service.

The ASC office is open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. Dowden urges anyone who has any questions on any of the programs to call at the county office. Members of the County Committee are: Marvin G. Steely, Route 4, Circleville; A. Ray Plum, Ashville; and E. O. Schwartz, Route 1, Mt. Sterling.

Gambling Figure In More Trouble

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Joseph Jasper (Fats) Aiello, 48-year-old Youngstown gambling figure who is free on bond in Trumbull County on an armed robbery charge, is in more trouble.

He was arrested Thursday and charged with violating Ohio's banking laws. The warrant was signed by John Ranz, an attorney, who charges Aiello signed a check for $28,500 on a Niles bank last March 27, but didn't have the money to cover it.

Ranz said Aiello agreed to repay the money, but has returned only $3,500. Ranz added, "Now its all excuses he is giving and we haven't collected another cent."

Area Farmers Slated To Get Wheat Acreage Allotments

Wheat growers of Pickaway County can expect to receive their 1960 acreage allotments through the mail next week, Chairman Marvin G. Steely of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

There is a total of 1,622 farms with 1960 wheat acreage allotments in the county, having a combined acreage of 42,455 acres. These allotments are being mailed at this time so farmers will have them in advance of the July 23 referendum, at which growers throughout the county will decide whether to market their 1960 wheat under the same quota system that has been in effect for several years.

The 1960 farm allotment will be about the same in most cases as it was last year. It represents the individual farm's share of the national wheat allotment, which will continue next year at the minimum of 55 million acres permitted by law.

If marketing quotas go into effect for the 1960 wheat crop as a result of two-thirds approval in the coming referendum, the allotment becomes a factor in determining compliance with marketing quotas. The farmer who keeps within his allotment may market his entire wheat production without penalty. The farmer who is over his allotment will ordinarily be subject to a penalty on the normal production of this excess acres.

AN EXCEPTION to this general rule is that any farmer may produce up to 15 acres of wheat without penalty. Also, a farmer with an allotment of less than 30 acres may apply for a feed wheat exemption and, if it is approved, may produce up to 30 acres of wheat to be used on the farm where grown.

The farmer who complies with his wheat allotment is eligible for price support either with or without marketing quotas in effect. The acreage allotment is also a factor of Soil Bank compliance and the determination of future wheat allotments.

Compliance with the allotment is required of any farmer participating in the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank. The farmer who exceeds his allotment and produces more than 15 acres of wheat and is not participating in the feed wheat program is ineligible for Conservation Reserve payments.

For purposes of establishing future allotments, the farmer who complies with his 1960 wheat allotment receives credit for his full wheat base and thus gets credit for the acreage diverted from wheat. The farmer who exceeds his allotment receives no credit for the diverted acreage unless he stores his excess wheat under marketing quota regulations or delivers it to the government.

Any farmer who has questions about his 1960 wheat allotment should discuss them with the staff of the county office as soon as possible after the allotment is received, Chairman Steely said.

Kempton Herd Gets Official Classification

The American Jersey Cattle Club of Columbus recently announced the official classification of the registered herd of Jerseys owned by Donald Kempton and family of Williamsport.

Paul Jackson, official judge and classifier for the club, gave the Kempton Herd a final average score of 87.73 on 21 cows.

Three head rated excellent, 16 very good, and two good plus. This compares with the national average of about 84 as average score of all classified Jerseys.

For the same month (April) this herd averaged 1,103 lbs of milk testing 5.15 per cent and 56.8 lbs. of butterfat, according to official tests supervised by Ohio State University.

Help Coming Soon For Ohio Pensioners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Welfare Director Mary Gorman said today old age pensioners and the needy blind could look for additional help as soon as a new law becomes effective, 90 days after signing by the governor.

The Legislature earlier this week voted to remove the $65 monthly ceilings on pensions for the aged and blind. Sponsors estimated that average monthly payments of $55 would go to $64.50.

Mrs. Gorman told Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's Cabinet meeting that aid for the disabled also would be augmented at the same time.

But she said aid for dependent children might be delayed until after Jan. 1 to arrange for necessary changes.

Since 1937 Nebraska has had only one house in its legislature, instead of the usual two of other states.

Sheep Growers Will Vote on Referendum

Chairman Marvin G. Steely of the Pickaway ASC County Committee announced today that sheep producers will have the opportunity to vote in September in a nation-wide referendum on the question of continuing to finance a market development program for wool and lambs.

The program of advertising, promotion and related activities is carried out under an agreement with the American Sheep Producers Council. It is financed by deductions from wool incentive payments earned by growers under the national wool program.

The agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year and if approved in the September referendum, will be continued for another three years. Approval requires the favorable vote of producers having two-thirds of the volume of production represented in the referendum.

The new agreement, Steely said, would provide that deductions may not exceed the rates of one cent per pound for shorn wool and five cents per hundredweight for lambs that have been in effect under the original agreement.

THE REFERENDUM will extend over the entire month of September to make it as easy as possible for all growers to participate, Mr. Steely said. Ballots will be mailed to producers from the county ASC office before September 1 and may be voted and returned through September 30, 1959.

The referendum relates only to the wool and lamb market development program. It will not affect the continuation of the payment program under the three year extension of the wool act last summer.

Irish Author Ends Binge in London Jail

LONDON (AP)—Irish playwright Brendan Behan ended a wild three-day binge in a police cell this afternoon. The police charge was: "Found drunk in a public place."

His spree was a noisy nonstop performance of public and private guzzling, singing, shouting, dancing and cursing that his alarmed wife said is sending him to an early grave. Behan drinks just about anything and everything.

Some friends feared that like the Welsh poet-genius Dylan Thomas, the highly gifted Behan seemed to be reeling toward tragedy by the hospitality of friends and acquaintances.

Only Thursday his wife Beatrice pleaded over the telephone from Dublin: "Please stop risking your life when you are so ill." His father-in-law, artist Cecil French Salkfield said: "Brendan is a very sick man. His complaint is not all due to alcohol. Even the slightest drop of the stuff makes him very ill. To buy him a drink is a form of manslaughter."

Behan's reaction to this was to lurch out of the London apartment of Irish sculptor Desmond MacNamara and bellow into the dawn: "I'll die if I don't get a drink."

Now Is the Time To Prepare For Freezing Sweet Corn

By KOLEEN K. EWING

Associate County Extension Agent
Many home kitchens these days are busy with preparing foods for freezing. Soon sweet corn will be ready to eat and to freeze.

It is important to follow simple steps in freezing to get a good quality product. Remember, freezing does not improve the quality of foods, it merely preserves quality and presents spoilage.

When selecting corn, select only young, tender, freshly picked corn

of uniform maturity. The kernels should be full, rounded and milky. Corn should be frozen within two hours after harvesting.

To prepare corn, husk and remove silk. Trim off any injured or defective areas. Wash and scald ears of corn in boiling water for approximately 8 minutes. Remove and chill immediately. Cut corn from cob. Package corn in moisture vapor proof package and seal. Label and freeze immediately at 20 degrees to 40 degrees for best results.

FROZEN foods are very high in popularity because of their convenience. You may have seasonal products the year around with frozen foods. They add good variety to your meals.

Frozen foods closely resemble fresh foods in appearance and natural flavor. They have high nutritive value. Freezing foods is economical and it is easy and fun to do.

Wool Pay To Increase

Wool growers of Ohio will receive a payment of 70.3 cents for each dollar's worth of shorn wool marketed during the 1958 marketing year, Chairman Ted H. Breyley of the State ASC Committee announced today.

The payment rate represents the percentage necessary to bring the national average price wool growers got for their wool during the year ending last March up to the established national incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

The payment rate on unshorn lambs to compensate for the wool on them will be $1.02 cents per hundredweight of live animals sold. This payment is designed to maintain the normal practice of marketing lambs with the wool on, rather than shearing them to obtain the shorn wool payment.

The 1958 wool payment rate is the highest in the four years the program has been in operation, Chairman Breyley said. This is the result of relatively low prices received for wool in the last year. For 1955, the first year of the program, the shorn wool incentive payment rate was 44.9 per cent; for 1956, it was 40.0 per cent; and for 1957, 15.5 per cent.

County ASC offices expect to begin making the 1958 wool payments soon to growers who filed applications by April 30, 1959. The payments are for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958 and March 31, 1959.

4-H Club News

Buttons and Bowls
By Mary Streber

The tenth meeting of the Buttons and Bowls 4-H club was held at the home of Linda Styers. Projects were discussed.

Linda Styers gave a demonstration on making cinnamon rolls. The club planned a swimming party for July 18 and discussed a community project.

Blue Ribbon Chefs
By Beverly McKenzie

The ninth meeting of the Blue Ribbon Chefs was held June 30 at the Pickaway School with Sharon Sharrett presiding. Members, under the direction of Judy Hoffman, repeated the 4-H Pledge and the pledge to the flag.

Seventeen members answered roll call by telling what they have enjoyed most in 4-H this year.

Miss Koleen Ewing was a guest at the meeting. She and the junior leaders judged foods the members prepared.

Beverly McKenzie gave a report on Junior Leadership Camp.

The following demonstrations were given: Janet Bower on how to make pizza pie, Beverly McKenzie on how to can green beans, Janie Hockman on how to make fancy tea sandwiches, Judy Huffman on how to make scalloped potatoes with cheese and Cheryl Hulise on how to make muffins and how to make a dust mat.

Refreshments were served by Cheryl Hulise, Carol Huffer and Judy Rockwell.

Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters
By Sally Hines

The Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters met on June 24. The meeting was opened by the 4-H Pledge, led by Joan McFarland. Roll call was answered by stating what 4-H means to me.

Following the business meeting two demonstrations were given. The first was given by Joan McFarland on how to pack a lunch and the other was given by Linda Reid on how to make oatmeal cookies.

Reflectorized Auto Tags To Be Tested

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys says he hopes to put a few reflectorized auto plates in use next year.

The tags, he said, would be issued in a few representative counties to get comparative statistics on their effect on highway safety. His remarks came during a demonstration Thursday night to show how light-reflecting auto plates are effective in night driving.

Dixie Skinner was a visitor at the meeting. Refreshments were served by Susie Pontius.

The last meeting of the Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters met at the school on July 1 at 1 p. m. The meeting came to order with the 4-H Pledge, led by Linda Minor. Roll call was answered by giving tips on good grooming.

For a community project, the club voted to make favors for the hospital. The club trip will be held on July 29. Members will go to the Skyroom at the Deshler Hilton Hotel. The club voted to go to Mowery's cabin for the picnic on July 25.

A team demonstration was given by Linda Minor and Joy Welsh on the attractive girl.

When refreshments were served Sally Hines was honored on her 13th birthday by Dona Mowery and her mother.

Merry Mixers
By Mona Davis

The 13th meeting of the Merry Mixers was opened by saying the pledge to the flag and the 4-H Pledge, led by Judy Adkins. Roll call followed.

Jeanne Bartholomew read the letters she received from Lazarus. Members will tour Lazarus and are to meet behind the Peney Store in the parking lot.

The grading period is July 22 at 9 a. m.

After the meeting the following demonstrations were given: Melan Shee on how to fill out your project book; Judy Adkins on how to spread sandwich fillings, how to cut different shapes of sandwiches and how to hold, feed, bathe and dress a baby; Sharon Evans on how to freeze a sandwich; Leola Harmon on how to set a table; and Betty Dutcher on how to feed a baby.

'Little Joe' Opens New Front in His War with DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson has opened a new front in his war with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle over sales tax stamps. Both are Democrats.

Ferguson's objective is to thicken the sales tax commission "gravy" thinned down by a DiSalle-backed law eliminating use of stamps on automobile sales.

The governor was unsuccessful in doing away with the stamps entirely.

The peppery treasurer asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to say whether stamps must be issued when bottled liquor is sold at retail by state stores.

Tax attorney asserted that Ferguson stands a good chance of winning his fight in court if he receives an adverse ruling from McElroy, also a Democrat.

The new administration law added the 3 per cent tax to retail liquor sales but stores collect it without issuing stamps.

Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch received permission from Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers to collect the tax without handing out stamps.

Liquor stores add the tax to retail purchases but Crouch said it will be figured in list prices posted after Aug. 1.

Ferguson termed failure of liquor stores to issue stamps "absolutely illegal without question of a doubt."

He asserted the liquor store stamp policy is "an attempt to thwart the law and keep charity and other groups from redeeming the stamps."

The new law cut stamp redemption payments from 3 to 2 per cent of face value, starting this month.

That reduction, coupled with elimination of stamps on car sales, will about cut in half more than five million dollars paid out last year in redemptions, Ferguson estimated.

Ferguson's interest in stamp use stems from patronage considerations. He controls 422 agents who receive commissions on the stamps purchased by vendors, who in turn pass them out to retail customers.

The treasurer recently shifted some of the more lucrative agencies from Republicans to "deserving Democrats to pass the gravy around." He said loss of commissions on stamps for autos "thinned the gravy a little."

Failure of liquor stores to issue stamps caught Ferguson's eye because retail sales approximating 132 million dollars a year call for nearly four million in sales taxes.

Purchase of those stamps from his agents obviously would thicken the gravy on commissions, as Ferguson terms it. And the stamp redemption potential at the reduced rate would exceed $79,000 a year.

Crouch explained that he received permission for stores to prepay the sales tax without issuing stamps because to do so would be inefficient. Bowers said the same privilege is extended to other enterprises such as horse racing, cafeterias in factories and some entertainment.

Ferguson insisted that Bowers can exempt stamp use only when it is impractical to use them.

"There is no impracticability here," he asserted. "I don't know if they're running a monarchy around here or not," he added.

Ferguson recalled that an attempt was made in the House Taxation Committee to exempt stamp use on retail liquor sales during hearings on the bill to increase sales taxes. The proposal met defeat.

3 of 4 Zoo Polar Bears Ignore Ice

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Take four polar bears out of the frigid Arctic for several years, and what have you got?

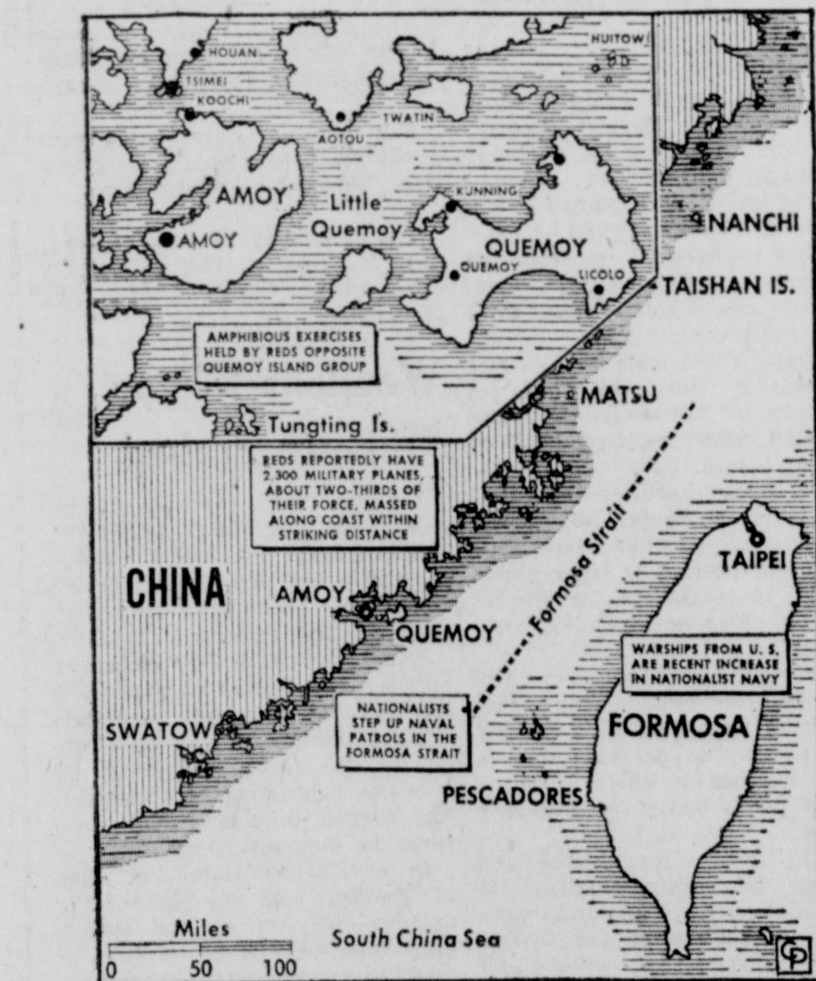

One ice fan and three sun-loving softies.

The Toledo Zoo found that out when it staged a polar bear party with 1,000 pounds of ice and bucket of fish.

Zoo Director Phil Skeldon and Curator of Mammals Dan Danford arranged the party as a morale booster.

The fish was a hit all around. But after the food was gone, and they had taken a few exploratory nuzzles of the blocks of ice, three of the bears became party poopers by sprawling lazily on the warm concrete floor of their grotto.

The fourth, a female, was beside herself with her cold treat. She pawed the ice, hugged it, chewed it, and finally pushed two blocks into the grotto pool where she convorted four hours.

Some Bright TV Spots Booked

Good Programs Noted Along with Repeats

NEW YORK (AP)—If the footwork is fast and the dialing hand hasn't lost its skill, you can find a good assortment of fresh material in the midst of television's rebroadcasts during the next seven days.

Starting from the top of the period, Saturday's most interesting bet is the Perry Presents show on NBC to see, if nothing else, how Gloria de Haven makes out substituting for Teresa Brewer. Some might prefer to tune in ABC's Saturday Jubilee U.S.A. with guitarist Lew Childre and Ozark comedienne Minnie Pearl.

Paul Butler, Democratic National Committee chairman, will answer questions on "College News Conference" Sunday on ABC, and NBC will televise the Yankee-Red Sox baseball game.

CBS has taken "The Last Word's" regular time for a special interview with W. Averell Harriman, former New York governor, on his recent Moscow conversations with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. This will be broadcast on CBS-radio that night.

Harriman will be followed immediately by Sen. Stuart Symington on "Face the Nation," which in turn is followed by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retired Army chief of staff, on "Meet the Press" on NBC.

Ed Sullivan's show, also Sunday on CBS features comedians Wayne and Shuster, Carol Channing, singer Georgia Gibbs and dancer Noelle Adam. NBC's Chevy Chase will feature comedies Gene Sheldon and Joel Grey plus the regular stars, Janet Blair and John Raitt.

Sportsmen will enjoy ABC's Top Pro Golf Monday night when Dow Finsterwald plays Al Balding. Constant viewers may be a little confused about Monday's new "Desilu Playhouse" show on CBS. This one, a prizefight drama, stars Rory Calhoun. Friday night of the same week, over on NBC Rory Calhoun will fight Dick Tiger in a 10-round middleweight bout from Syracuse. It happens that there are two Rory Calhouns, one an actor, the other a boxer.

Andy Williams' guest Tuesday night on CBS, is Japanese singer Myoshi Umei. Wednesday night Imogene Coca turns up as a guest on CBS' "I've Got a Secret." Highlight of the evening may well be CBS' "U.S. Steel Hour" — a new drama called "The Pink Burrow" and starring June Haver.

James Stewart may be seen in a new documentary about SAC bombers on CBS' "Strike Playhouse" Friday night.

Road Patrol Plans More Sky Spies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol said today that spotting speeders from an airplane above U.S. 40 worked out well July 4 and will be tried elsewhere.

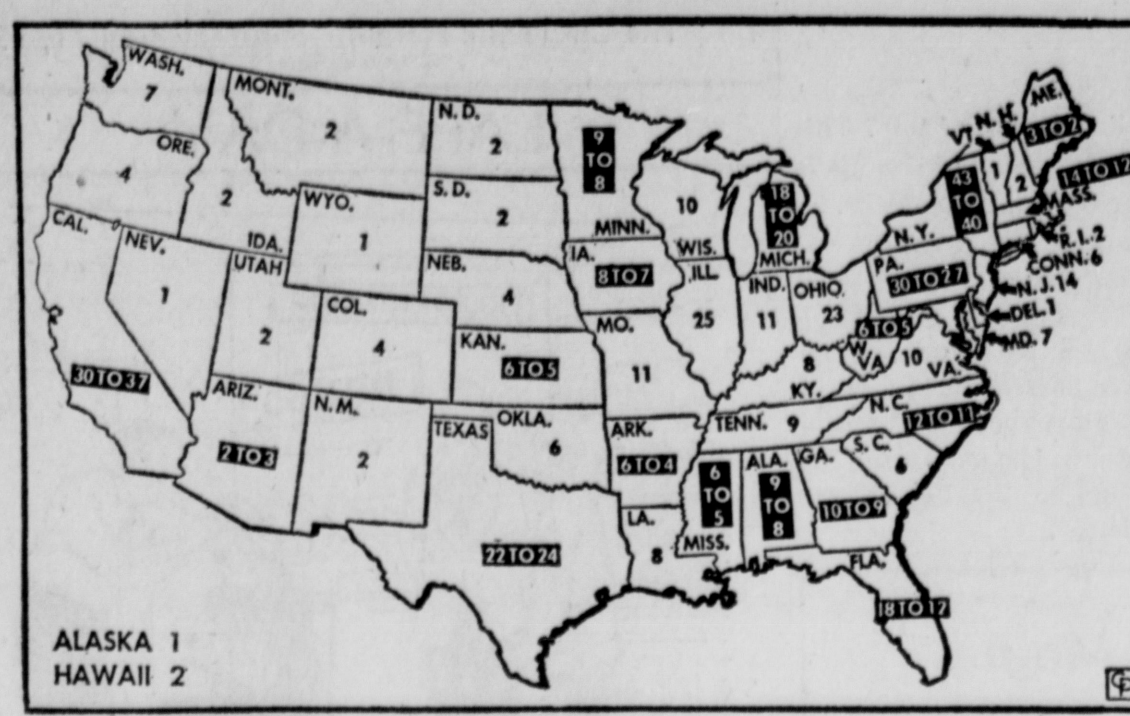

The aerial spotting system was tried for the first time on a one-mile stretch of U.S. 40 west of Columbus.

Two cars going 80 m.p.h. and two traveling 75 m.p.h. were spotted, Lt. E. E. Smith said, and stopped by patrol cruisers notified by radio from the plane. Eleven other drivers were given warnings.

Thirteen states face loss of seats, and six are likely to gain (losses and gains in black). New state Hawaii will qualify for two by then. The apportionment will bring the number of House members down to 435 again. One in Alaska and assignment of one to Hawaii have it up to 437. (Central Press)

Celina Sheriff Now Waging Court Battle

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Bruce Barber has called on his deputies and four other sheriffs in an attempt to show Mercer County Common Pleas Court that

(1) He needs a larger staff than his budget allows and (2) he is innocent of contempt charges.

Barber was cited for contempt when he released a prisoner serving a 30-day manslaughter sentence in a traffic death. Three other prisoners, under sentence of drunk driving, were released at the same time—June 15—but their sentences were later suspended.

When he closed the jail, Barber said his budget was inadequate to "run the jail in a proper manner." He was cited for contempt, and his trial before Judge Paul P. Dull began Thursday.

Barber is undertaking his own defense, although he is not an attorney. Thursday he called four deputies to the witness stand, and they testified that 65 to 70-hour work weeks are often inadequate to handle all the duties of the sheriff's office.

Barber then called four area sheriffs—Wilmer Clay of Van Wert County, Robert Davison of Auglaize, John Keeler of Paulding and Arnold Potts of Putnam—who testified that they, too, are hard-pressed to handle the work load with three or four deputies.

Barber is serving his third term as sheriff. He was elected in 1940, 1952 and 1956.

1958 Rated Busy Year For U.S. Bank Robbers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bank robbers were busier last year than in any year in history, the FBI reported today.

The report, for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed 764 violations of the federal bank robbery law. They included 445 robberies, 233 burglaries and 86 larcenies.

The total compared with 631 violations in the previous fiscal year and 606 in 1952, at the height of the gangster era.

Washer, Button and Finger Mix; She's Stuck with It

LONDON (AP)—Olga Minter's washing machine, a button and Mrs. Minter's finger tied up 15 firemen, two policemen, an ambulance crew and a doctor for two hours Thursday.

A button lodged in the washer's drain pipe. Mrs. Minter, 30, stuck her finger into the pipe to try to dislodge the button.

The finger wouldn't budge. She tried again and again. She sat on the floor beside the machine and tugged. The finger stayed stuck.

The telephone began ringing. Mrs. Minter kicked the washer a couple of times but it wouldn't let go.

She tried to reach the telephone by dragging the labor-saving device along with her. This hurt her finger so much she had to stop. Water leaking from the machine spread a puddle about her, soaking her backside. And then her 3-week-old baby began howling for his dinner.

At this point a neighbor fortunately walked in, sized up the situation and dialed an emergency number on the telephone.

The firemen, the cops and the ambulance all arrived at the same time.

"I've never felt so ridiculous in my whole life as when all those men walked in," said Mrs. Minter.

While her rescuers began their tug of war with the washer, a huge crowd assembled outside. This tied up traffic for blocks around.

In desperation, the doctor was about to have Mrs. Minter — washing machine and all — taken to a hospital. Then "pop." The finger gave and the day was saved.

Larger Letters On Sign Needed

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Policeman William Ryke lost his eyeglasses to a pet shop monkey.

The monkey snatched Ryke's glasses right off his nose as he bent to read a sign on the cage.

Attendants got them back and Ryke then read the sign — "Watch your eyeglasses."

Geologist Trying To Find More Northern Ohio Water

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—With an airplane and special photographic equipment, a Notre Dame University geologist and his wife are trying to find a short cut to locating new water sources in northern Ohio, northern Indiana and southern Michigan.

In these deposits are pockets of water. Many, it is hoped, are substantial ones which so far have escaped detection.

Over the years, many methods of exploration have been used to seek these pockets. One of the more recent ones is the use of electrical resistivity which supplements test drilling.

In it, four metal stakes are driven into the ground along a straight line. An electric current is sent through the two outer ones. This establishes an electric potential between the two inner ones. The voltage between the two inner stakes is a measure of the water in the ground.

This process, however, is time-consuming. Dr. Winkler hopes to find a way to check a large area in a comparatively short time.

His idea is in line with a growing effort to develop better methods of locating the earth's hidden mineral wealth. He recalls that about three years ago, aerial photography, with the use of color film, located a rich uranium deposit some distance below the earth's surface in Arizona.

In his water hunt, Dr. Winkler will try a variety of color films including those particularly sensitive to invisible infrared light.

He has a $6,500 grant from the Office of Naval Research to help. Initially, Dr. Winkler will take color photographs of the land around South Bend, Ind., from altitudes of 4,000 to 10,000 feet.

Then, studying the color film, he hopes to find characteristic patterns common to areas in which water is hidden. These could include the color of the vegetation and soil and land contours.

'Little Joe' Opens New Front in His War with DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson has opened a new front in his war with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle over sales tax stamps. Both are Democrats.

Ferguson's objective is to thicken the sales tax commission "graveyard" thinned down by a DiSalle-backed law eliminating use of stamps on automobile sales.

The governor was unsuccessful in doing away with the stamps entirely.

The peppy treasurer asked Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to say whether stamps must be issued when bottled liquor is sold at retail by state stores.

Tax attorney asserted that Ferguson stands a good chance of winning his fight in court if he receives an adverse ruling from McElroy, also a Democrat.

The new administration law added the 3 per cent tax to retail liquor sales but stores collect it without issuing stamps.

Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch received permission from Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers to collect the tax without handing out stamps.

Liquor stores add the tax to retail purchases but Crouch said it will be figured in list prices posted after Aug. 1.

Ferguson termed failure of liquor stores to issue stamps "absolutely illegal without question of a doubt."

He asserted the liquor store stamp policy is "an attempt to thwart the law and keep charity and other groups from redeeming the stamps."

The new law cut stamp redemption payments from 3 to 2 per cent of face value, starting this month.

That reduction, coupled with elimination of stamps on car sales, will about cut in half more than five million dollars paid out last year in redemptions, Ferguson estimated.

Ferguson's interest in stamp use stems from patronage considerations. He controls 422 agents who receive commissions on the stamps purchased by vendors, who in turn pass them out to retail customers.

The treasurer recently shifted some of the more lucrative agencies from Republicans to "deserving" Democrats to pass the gray around." He said loss of commissions on stamps for autos "thinned the gray a little."

Failure of liquor stores to issue stamps caught Ferguson's eye because retail sales approximating 132 million dollars a year call for nearly four million in sales taxes.

Purchase of those stamps from his agents obviously would thicken the gray on commissions, as Ferguson terms it. And the stamp redemption potential at the reduced rate would exceed $79,000 a year.

Crouch explained that he received permission for stores to prepay the sales tax without issuing stamps because to do so would be inefficient. Bowers said the same privilege is extended to other enterprises such as horse racing, cafeterias in factories and some entertainment.

Ferguson insisted that Bowers can exempt stamp use only when it is impractical to use them. "There is no impracticability here," he asserted. "I don't know if they're running a monarchy around here or not," he added.

Ferguson recalled that an attempt was made in the House Taxation Committee to exempt stamp use on retail liquor sales during hearings on the bill to increase sales taxes. The proposal met defeat.

Some Bright TV Spots Booked

Good Programs Noted Along with Repeats

NEW YORK (AP)—If the footwork is fast and the dialing hand hasn't lost its skill, you can find a good assortment of fresh material in the midst of television's rebroadcasts during the next seven days.

Starting from the top of the period, Saturday's most interesting bet is the Perry Presents show on NBC to see, if nothing else, how Gloria de Haven makes out substituting for Teresa Brewer. Some might prefer to tune in ABC's Saturday Jubilee U.S.A. with guitarist Lew Childre and Ozark comedienne Minnie Pearl.

Paul Butler, Democratic National Committee chairman, will answer questions on "College News Conference" Sunday on ABC, and NBC will televise the Yankee-Red Sox baseball game.

CBS has taken "The Last Word's" regular time for a special interview with W. Averell Harriman, former New York governor, on his recent Moscow conversations with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. This will be broadcast on CBS-radio that night.

Harriman will be followed immediately by Sen. Stuart Symington on "Face the Nation," which in turn is followed by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retired Army chief of staff, on "Meet the Press" on NBC.

Ed Sullivan's show, also Sunday on CBS features comedians Wayne and Shuster, Carol Channing, singer Georgia Gibbs and dancer Noel Adam. NBC's Chevy Chase will feature comedians Gene Sheldon and Joel Grey plus the regular stars, Janet Blair and John Raitt.

Sportsmen will enjoy ABC's Top Pro Golf Monday night when Dow Finsterwald plays Al Balding. Constant viewers may be a little confused about Monday's new "Desilu Playhouse" show on CBS. This one, a prizefight drama, stars Rory Calhoun. Friday night of the same week, over on NBC Rory Calhoun will fight Dick Tiger in a 10-round middleweight bout from Syracuse. It happens that there are two Rory Calhouns, one an actor, the other a boxer.

Andy Williams' guest Tuesday night on CBS, is Japanese singer Myoshi Umei. Wednesday night Imogene Coca turns up as a guest on CBS' "I've Got a Secret." Highlight of the evening may well be CBS' "U.S. Steel Hour"—a new drama called "The Pink Burrow" and starring June Haver.

James Stewart may be seen in a new documentary about SAC bombers on CBS' "Strike Playhouse" Friday night.

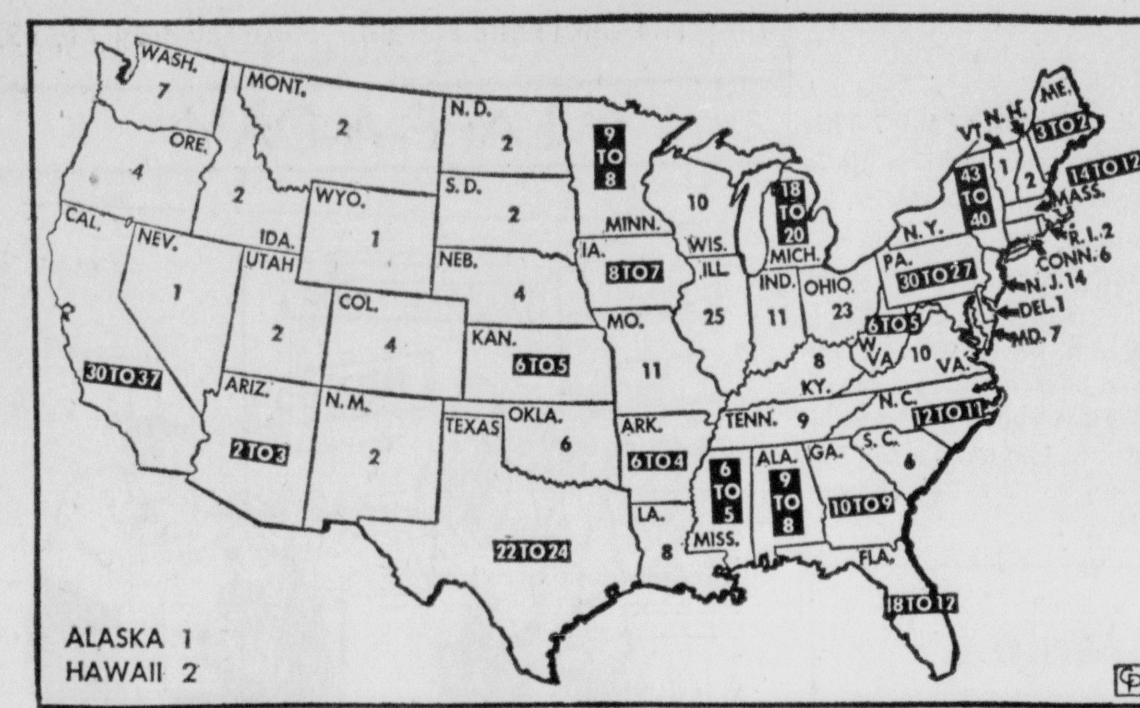

Barber was cited for contempt when he released a prisoner serving a 30-day manslaughter sentence in a traffic death. Three other prisoners, under sentence for drunk driving, were released at the same time—June 15—but their sentences were later suspended.

When he closed the jail, Barber said his budget was inadequate to "run the jail in a proper manner." He was cited for contempt, and his trial before Judge Paul P. Dull began Thursday.

Barber is undertaking his own defense, although he is not an attorney. Thursday he called four deputies to the witness stand, and they testified that 65 to 70-hour work weeks are often inadequate to handle all the duties of the sheriff's office.

Barber then called four area sheriffs—Wilmer Clay of Van Wert County, Robert Davison of Auglaize, John Keeler of Paulding and Arnold Potts of Putnam—who testified that they, too, are hard-pressed to handle the work load with three or four deputies.

Barber is serving his third term as sheriff. He was elected in 1940, 1952 and 1956.

1960 REAPPORTIONMENT—Here is how the congressional reapportionment will take effect from the 1960 census, according to a Census bureau projection of population shifts. Thirteen states will face loss of seats, and six are likely to gain (losses and gains in black). New state Hawaii will qualify for two by then. The apportionment will bring the number of House members down to 435 again. One in Alaska and assignment of one to Hawaii have it up to 437. (Central Press)

Celina Sheriff Now Waging Court Battle

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Bruce Barber has called on his deputies and four other sheriffs in an attempt to show Mercer County Common Pleas Court that (1) He needs a larger staff than his budget allows and (2) he is innocent of contempt charges.

Barber was cited for contempt when he released a prisoner serving a 30-day manslaughter sentence in a traffic death. Three other prisoners, under sentence for drunk driving, were released at the same time—June 15—but their sentences were later suspended.

Washer, Button and Finger Mix; She's Stuck with It

LONDON (AP)—Olga Minter's spread a puddle about her, soaking washing machine, a button and Mrs. Minter's finger tied up 15 firemen, two policemen, an ambulance crew and a doctor for two hours Thursday.

A button lodged in the washer's drain pipe. Mrs. Minter, 30, stuck her finger into the pipe to try to dislodge the button.

The finger wouldn't budge. She tried again and again. She sat on the floor beside the machine and tugged. The finger stayed stuck.

The telephone began ringing. Mrs. Minter kicked the washer a couple of times but it wouldn't let go.

She tried to reach the telephone by dragging the labor-saving device along with her. This hurt her finger so much she had to stop. Water leaking from the machine soaked the floor.

At this point a neighbor fortunately walked in, sized up the situation and dialed an emergency number on the telephone.

The firemen, the cops and the ambulance all arrived at the same time.

"I've never felt so ridiculous in my whole life as when all those men walked in," said Mrs. Minter.

While her rescuers began their tug of war with the washer, a huge crowd assembled outside. This tied up traffic for blocks around.

In desperation, the doctor was about to have Mrs. Minter—washing machine and all—taken to a hospital. Then "plop." The finger gave and the day was saved.

Heavy rains in Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—National police reported 56 dead and 7,000 homeless today in floods caused by a week of heavy rain. A special relief committee was set up by the cabinet.

The level of Han River, which cuts through the Seoul area, dropped somewhat but police guards were still posted along the banks. A U.S. Army spokesman said there has been no flood damage to American military installations.

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Policeman William Ryke lost his eyeglasses to a pet shop monkey.

The monkey snatched Ryke's glasses right off his nose as he bent to read a sign on the cage. Attendants got them back and Ryke then read the sign—"Watch your eyeglasses."

"Steers make most economical gains on corn-silage—Steer-Fatena Program"

"Corn silage and Purina Steer Fatena has been my most profitable ration for fattening steers," says L. A. "Jack" Pretz of Weston, Ohio, who has fed cattle for twenty years.

Mr. Pretz finishes out 325-350 steers per year... markets them in Cleveland or through local buyers. "Steers make most economical gains on a full-feed of corn silage and 3 lbs. per day of Steer Fatena to 700-800 lbs.," he states. "Then, we add high-moisture corn and drop the supplement to 2 lbs. daily."

In addition to corn silage Pretz grows top-quality alfalfa and mixed hay; feeds it only if silage runs low. Last year, he put up over 1000 tons of corn silage.

Ohio cattle feeders like "Jack" Pretz are proving that Purina Steer Fatena helps steers make fast, low-cost gains. We can show you how to plan a sound feeding program for your beef operation. ## 3 of 4 Zoo Polar Bears Ignore Ice

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Take four polar bears out of the frigid Arctic for several years, and what have you got?

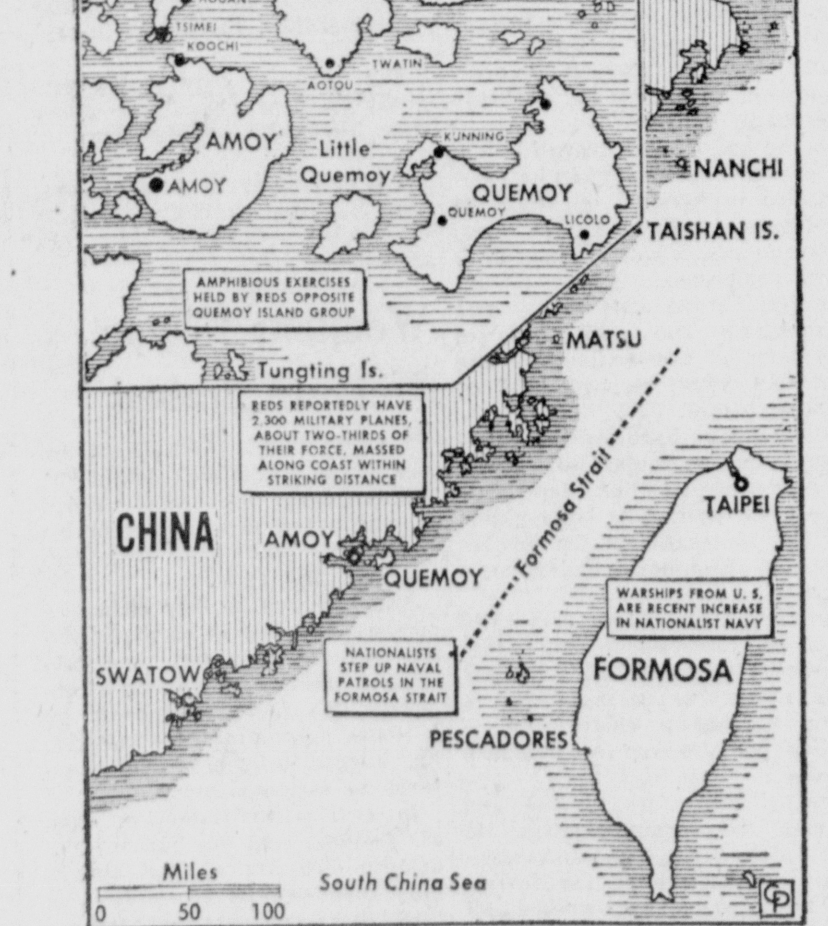

One ice fan and three sun-loving softies.

The Toledo Zoo found that out when it staged a polar bear party with 1,000 pounds of ice and bucket of fish.

Zoo Director Phil Skeldon and Curator of Mammals Dan Danford arranged the party as a morale booster.

The fish was a hit all around. But after the food was gone, and they had taken a few exploratory nuzzles of the blocks of ice, three of the bears became party poopers by sprawling lazily on the warm concrete floor of their grotto.

The fourth, a female, was beside herself with her cold treat. She pawed the ice, hugged it, chewed it, and finally pushed two blocks into the grotto pool where she convorted four hours.

It is believed the buildup is aimed at resumption of the foreign ministers talks in Geneva, for propaganda effect if nothing else. ## Road Patrol Plans More Sky Spies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Highway Patrol said today that spotting speeders from an airplane above U.S. 40 worked out well July 4 and will be tried elsewhere.

The aerial spotting system was tried for the first time on a one-mile stretch of U.S. 40 west of Columbus.

Two cars going 80 m.p.h. and two traveling 75 m.p.h. were spotted, Lt. E. E. Smith said, and stopped by patrol cruisers notified by radio from the plane. Eleven other drivers were given warnings.

1958 Rated Busy Year For U.S. Bank Robbers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bank robbers were busier last year than in any year in history, the FBI reported today.

The report, for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed 764 violations of the federal bank robbery law. They included 445 robberies, 233 burglaries and 86 larcenies.

The total compared with 631 violations in the previous fiscal year and 606 in 1952, at the height of the gangster era.

Missile Trouble Encountered

The bare announcement by Defense Secretary McElroy that operational status for the Atlas 5,500-mile intercontinental ballistic missile has been delayed "not less than 60 days" leaves several questions unanswered.

Has a major defect been found in the missile, the kind that will make its successful use doubtful at best? How much longer than 60 days will it be delayed? Is it really reliable enough to be put on operational status even at the end of that period?

The delay apparently stems from five unsuccessful firing tests. These are the latest of 25 tests, of which nine have been flops, six partly successful and 10 successful. Now missile technicians are turning the bird inside out to ascertain what is the problem.

McElroy told newsmen that Russia has encountered difficulties with its ICBMs too. Does he have knowledge of this? This is the sort of statement that could be made merely to ease worry about the Atlas.

Eventually, of course, the troubles will be ironed out. But until they are, it is good to know that the nation has its long-range bomber force intact for protection. Even after the missiles are perfected, in view of expert opinion that only about half would reach their target, there is good reason for maintaining the strategic retaliatory air force at peak efficiency.

Does U.S. Need Psychiatric Couch?

It is a mark of insanity that it is never recognized by individuals afflicted. It must be that the same rule holds true for a society.

Today's headlines tell a story of national lunacy posing as intellectualism and few detect the masquerade.

Evidence continues to accrue that Uncle Sam is in sad need of a psychiatric couch. There is the story of emergency for the federal highway fund now in exhausted state and with Congress unwilling to raise the gasoline tax still higher. The national debt is bulging past legal limits again. The public is increasing skeptical of federal bonds although fiscal calamity is averted only by selling new bonds to refund the old.

There are few sources of taxation left untapped and the old ones are dangerously strained. The whole picture screams of danger, and it might be assumed that an intelligent or even half-sensible people would heed the warnings and rush in with heroic remedial measures.

Instead, the National Education Association in convention assembled petitions Congress for $8 billion of deficit and "uncontrolled" aid in the name of raising the intellectual level of the nation.

The picture suggests that irrationality often occurs in an intellectual setting.

Last of the Old Line

Top leadership of the U. S. Army has changed, with Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer succeeding Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as chief of staff. In some circles the retirement of General Taylor is viewed as a sort of Taps for the Old Army.

"The last captain of the old hunters... the last of the Army's truly dashing commanders," rhapsodizes one Washington reporter. Brig. Gen. S. L. A. Marshal, the military historian and analyst, eulogizes Taylor: "He has fought a last, losing campaign to keep the Army's manpower base solvent."

This may be great stuff for sentimental old Army officers and ex-war correspondents, but it sounds to the average citizen like just some more of the tiresome inter-service rivalry with which the Pentagon has been wracked for years.

One reason why Taylor's retirement is being mourned is because General Lemnitzer is primarily a staff officer, not a field commander. In that sense he signals a change from the entire post-World War II course of events where the top Army man has always had a record of combat field command.

Too, Lemnitzer has built his reputation more along political and diplomatic lines. But, if he plans to continue the elbowing that has characterized the nation's military leadership for years, maybe these abilities will come in handier than most.

Presidential Candidate Scramble

By George Sokolsky

The realistic difficulty that the present Congress faces is that whereas it has enough votes to run President Eisenhower and the Republican Party, the same men among the Democrats do not wish to ruin the United States in the process. An increasingly swift inflation could so affect the American economy as to leave our people in difficulties for at least another generation.

This is the fundamental quarrel between the Democratic leadership of Senator Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn and the A.D.A. group. The latter feel that the Democrats have the votes in the Senate and the House of Representatives to over-ride a veto by the President and that they ought to use the present Congress to win the 1960 election, come what may. This may be sound partisan politics but it is not sound from the standpoint of the United States.

There are numerous Democratic candidates for the Presidency and some of them are recognizing that this is their only chance. Should Vice President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller win an election, it might push their chances four to eight years away; should Lyndon Johnson or Stuart Symington be nominated by the Democrats and elected, it would eliminate these other Democrats altogether.

For instance, the nomination of Senator John Kennedy by the Democrats looked very promising for a while, but it is now much in doubt. Unfortunately, his following is too mixed, as, for instance, Irish Catholic conservatives and A.D.A. radicals. Only Franklin D. Roosevelt was able to compose such a mixture and he did it while in office, when he was aiming at a second term. He managed to establish a composite of antagonistic elements in the New Deal, but nobody has been able to do that since, although the Modern Republicans hoped to for President Eisenhower.

Senator Hubert Humphrey has made no attempt to organize such a composite group. He has taken his stand as an A.D.A. radical. However, in that position he is meeting as a competitor Adlai Stevenson, who has twice failed of election, but who apparently is being supported for 1960 by most of the remainders of the Roosevelt intimates such as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Herbert Lehman and their following. The Stevenson movement is strong and is developing its greatest force in New York where it is making a frontal attack on Carmine DeSapio, the present Democratic leader of that state. In the attack on DeSapio, the A.D.A. Democrats are being assisted by the Rockefeller Administration in New York State which is uncovering scandals in New York City.

Politically, the purpose of the current spasm of muckraking is designed to gain the Majority of New York for a Fusion candidate, supported by the Republicans. Also, if Rockefeller can destroy the Democratic organization in New York he will be proved to be one of the most astute political leaders.

If Adlai Stevenson can get the New York delegation, his Vice Presidential candidate could be Governor Pat Brown of California, a Roman Catholic and a labor man. This would eliminate John Kennedy altogether. Kennedy put all his eggs in one basket, vigorously supporting Walter Reuther against Jimmy Hoffa. John Kennedy and his brother, Robert, have been the principal factors in the violent attack on Hoffa before the McClellan Committee. But up to now, Hoffa has not been destroyed. He is in command of the largest and most vicious labor union in the United States and he means to remain in that position at any cost.

There can be little doubt but that the manpower and the treasury of the Teamsters Union will be for anybody who can defeat Kennedy. The morals may be with Kennedy but not the politics.

Reuther's U.A.W. has been steadily losing members. The State of Michigan, which Reuther absolutely controls, is bankrupt and Detroit has more unemployment than is tolerable. Furthermore, Walter Reuther has become a statesman and is so busy being a great international figure that he did not watch jobs while the American automobile companies were exporting capital to all parts of the world, and cars made by foreign labor were gaining an important foothold in the United States.

As this contest develops, many curious factors appear and as they do, it becomes less certain who the candidates will be. On the Democratic side, it could be, as of today, Lyndon Johnson or Stuart Symington.

Drugs Help Many Ailments

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Today we have a variety of drugs to discuss in our review of medical advances.

Chlorazepamone is a new muscle relaxant and tranquilizer that is marketed now and, although it contains great benefits, is not related chemically to any central muscle relaxants now in use.

Its therapeutic value in relieving acute muscle spasm and as a tranquilizer in tension states and other conditions where anxiety is a principal factor was studied on 1,651 patients. These studies ranged in time from six months to two years.

The best majority of these persons reported fair to excellent results. Moreover, 98 per cent experienced no side effects whatever.

An aid for diabetics is a new agent, DBI. Diabetic patients who do not respond adequately to insulin injections or to oral drugs reportedly can often be helped with DBI, a tablet taken by mouth.

When taken in conjunction with insulin injections, the new drug is said by some to produce a more stable control of complicated labile or brittle diabetics.

Although the drug Diamox aceta-

Originally, it was designed to relieve the strain of excess body fluids on weak hearts.

However, tests showed that it completely controlled epileptic seizures in 36 children and helped others in varying degrees.

These children had been suffering epileptic attacks of from one a day to hundreds a day. Most of them had failed to respond to standard anti-convulsant therapy.

A fourth new drug, dithiazanine iodine, may be of value to an estimated 24,000,000 North Americans afflicted with parasitic worms.

This new anti-worm compound is a blue dye that is harmless to humans and animals. But it either destroys or checks the growth of five varieties of parasites that inhabit the intestine and drain the strength of their victims.

But, as usual, all drugs should be given only under the doctor's direction.

Question and Answer
M. O'D.: I have had psoriasis on my arms and legs for two years. Can you tell me anything that will help this condition?

Answer: Many medications have been tried in the treatment of psoriasis with varying success. It would be advisable for you to see your physician.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Christian A. Herter—for a secretary of state—is a very frank man. His feelings as he returns to Geneva for talks with the Soviets, he says, might be unfit to print.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who prides himself on being brutally blunt, never outdid that one.

Twice at his news conference Thursday—his first since becoming secretary of state—Herter tried to say he was pessimistic about success in the American-Soviet talks which resume Monday at Geneva.

He didn't actually say he was pessimistic. He just said he wasn't optimistic. Just a short time ago at Geneva he finished six weeks of talks with the Soviets and got nowhere. This next go-round may last weeks, too.

Then one of the 190 newsmen—who crowded into the State Department auditorium to see him perform where his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, had held forth so often—asked him near the end of the 40-minute conference: "Mr. Secretary, if you could use only one word to describe your feelings as you head back toward Geneva, what would that one word be?"

Herter grinned. Twice he had used lack of optimism as a euphemism for pessimism. He seemed to search his mind an instant for that one word to describe his feelings. Then he said: "It might be unprintable."

That was a directness alien to the mind of Dulles, who died May 24. The late secretary, a highly successful lawyer, talked like one. He used his great legalistic skill in getting across American viewpoints, stating policy positions and floating trial balloons. He handled his news conference like a stage manager.

But his sentences and his ideas—and this was the lawyer working—were interwoven with qualifications and implications that sometimes had to be dug out like shrapnel from under the skin. He was a master at leaving the back door open in case he had to retreat.

Yet, unlike the rambling, disconnected, broken sentences and unfinished thoughts of President Eisenhower at a news conference, Dulles' sentences were always, despite twists and turns, grammatically sound and flowing.

So is the sentence structure of Herter, a "proper Bostonian" from Harvard. But Herter is easier to follow. His sentences are shorter, more direct. He has a simplicity Dulles lacked.

Dulles ran the State Department out of his hat. Often he gave an impression of arrogance. Herter, who depends on teamwork, seems a less complicated man of good nature and good will.

He was relaxed Thursday, although crippled by arthritis. He smiled easily, was unpretentious, and it was clear he had done his homework in the three years he has been in the State Department.

The 64-year-old Herter was named under secretary late in 1956. He didn't become secretary until April 22. In between those dates he was completely overshadowed by Dulles and probably thoroughly ignored.

So he had time to learn his job. It showed Thursday when he knew detailed background of American problems in Europe and Asia. Nevertheless, it was a pretty drab news conference.

Herter for the most part—and particularly about his lack of optimism on Geneva—simply was restating what he had said or implied before.

His ease in handling the newsmen is no guarantee he will be a good secretary of state. The proof and the test lie before him: He has 18 months in the job before the Eisenhower administration ends.

So far he has shown very little sign of forcefulness. But that proves nothing—yet. He's not the type anyway to come in with a roar. He has a choice: Follow Dulles' policy or try to break new ground.

Dulles' policy was frozen and in many ways unimaginative: He just followed the Truman-Acheson policy of stiff-arming the Soviets on all fronts. That worked all right so long as the Soviet Union was comparatively weak.

It isn't now. American policy may have to prove far more flexible to meet the changing times, new situations, and increasing belligerence of the Soviets. Herter hasn't had time yet to show himself or prove himself.

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators ask Adm. Arthur W. Radford today just whom he had in mind when he said interservice rows were encouraged from outside the Pentagon.

In a television interview June 28, Radford said one reason why defense decisions are not always fully supported by all services is that "there are certain encouragements lent from outside the Pentagon, for one reason or another."

Missile Trouble Encountered

The bare announcement by Defense Secretary McElroy that operational status for the Atlas 5,500-mile intercontinental ballistic missile has been delayed "not less than 60 days" leaves several questions unanswered.

Has a major defect been found in the missile, the kind that will make its successful use doubtful at best? How much longer than 60 days will it be delayed? Is it really reliable enough to be put on operational status even at the end of that period?

The delay apparently stems from five unsuccessful firing tests. These are the latest of 25 tests, of which nine have been flops, six partly successful and 10 successful. Now missile technicians are turning the bird inside out to ascertain what is the problem.

McElroy told newsmen that Russia has encountered difficulties with its ICBMs

too. Does he have knowledge of this? This is the sort of statement that could be made merely to ease worry about the Atlas.

Eventually, of course, the troubles will be ironed out. But until they are, it is good to know that the nation has its long-range bomber force intact for protection. Even after the missiles are perfected, in view of expert opinion that only about half would reach their target, there is good reason for maintaining the strategic retaliatory air force at peak efficiency.

Simile for the day: "As happy as an ant-eater at an outdoor picnic."

Does U.S. Need Psychiatric Couch?

It is a mark of insanity that it is never recognized by individuals afflicted. It must be that the same rule holds true for a society.

Today's headlines tell a story of national lunacy posing as intellectualism and few detect the masquerade.

Evidence continues to accrue that Uncle Sam is in sad need of a psychiatric couch. There is the story of emergency for the federal highway fund now in exhausted state and with Congress unwilling to raise the gasoline tax still higher. The national debt is bulging past legal limits again. The public is increasing skeptical of federal bonds although fiscal calamity is averted only by selling new bonds to refund the old.

There are few sources of taxation left untapped and the old ones are dangerously strained. The whole picture screams of danger, and it might be assumed that an intelligent or even half-sensible people would heed the warnings and rush in with heroic remedial measures.

Instead, the National Education Association in convention assembled petitions Congress for $8 billion of deficit and "uncontrolled" aid in the name of raising the intellectual level of the nation.

The picture suggests that irrationality often occurs in an intellectual setting.

Last of the Old Line

Top leadership of the U. S. Army has changed, with Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer succeeding Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as chief of staff. In some circles the retirement of General Taylor is viewed as a sort of Taps for the Old Army.

"The last captain of the old hunters... the last of the Army's truly dashing commanders," rhapsodizes one Washington reporter, Brig. Gen. S. L. A. Marshal, the military historian and analyst, eulogizes Taylor: "He has fought a last, losing campaign to keep the Army's manpower base solvent."

This may be great stuff for sentimental old Army officers and ex-war correspondents, but it sounds to the average citizen like just some more of the tiresome inter-service rivalry with which the Pentagon has been wracked for years.

One reason why Taylor's retirement is being mourned is because General Lemnitzer is primarily a staff officer, not a field commander. In that sense he signals a change from the entire post-World War II course of events where the top Army man has always had a record of combat field command.

Too, Lemnitzer has built his reputation more along political and diplomatic lines. But, if he plans to continue the elbowing that has characterized the nation's military leadership for years, maybe these abilities will come in handier than most.

Presidential Candidate Scramble By George Sokolsky

The realistic difficulty that the present Congress faces is that whereas it has enough votes to run President Eisenhower and the Republican Party, the same men among the Democrats do not wish to ruin the United States in the process. An increasingly swift inflation could so affect the American economy as to leave our people in difficulties for at least another generation.

This is the fundamental quarrel between the Democratic leadership of Senator Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn and the A.D.A. group. The latter feel that the Democrats have the votes in the Senate and the House of Representatives to override a veto by the President and that they ought to use the present Congress to win the 1960 election, come what may. This may be sound partisan politics but it is not sound from the standpoint of the United States.

There are numerous Democratic candidates for the Presidency and some of them are recognizing that this is their only chance. Should Vice President Nixon or Governor Rockefeller win an election, it might push their chances four to eight years away; should Lyndon Johnson or Stuart Symington be nominated by the Democrats and elected, it would eliminate these other Democrats altogether.

For instance, the nomination of Senator John Kennedy by the Democrats looked very promising for a while, but it is now much in doubt. Unfortunately, his following is too mixed, as, for instance, Irish Catholic conservatives and A.D.A. radicals. Only Franklin D. Roosevelt was able to compose such a mixture and he did it while in office, when he was aiming at a second term. He managed to establish a composite of antagonistic elements in the New Deal, but nobody has been able to do that since, although the Modern Republicans hoped to for President Eisenhower.

Senator Hubert Humphrey has made no attempt to organize such a composite group. He has taken his stand as an A.D.A. radical. However, in that position he is meeting as a competitor Adlai Stevenson, who has twice failed of election, but who apparently is being supported for 1960 by most of the remainders of the Roosevelt intimates such as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Herbert Lehman and their following.

The Stevenson movement is strong and is developing its greatest force in New York where it is making a frontal attack on Carmine DeSapio, the present Democratic leader of that state. In the attack on DeSapio, the A.D.A. Democrats are being assisted by the Rockefeller Administration in New York State which is uncovering scandals in New York City.

Politically, the purpose of the current spasm of muckraking is designed to gain the Mayoralty of New York for a Fusion candidate, supported by the Republicans. Also, if Rockefeller can destroy the Democratic organization in New York he will be proved to be one of the most astute political leaders.

If Adlai Stevenson can get the New York delegation, his Vice Presidential candidate could be Governor Pat Brown of California, a Roman Catholic and a labor man. This would eliminate John Kennedy altogether.

Kennedy put all his eggs in one basket, vigorously supporting Walter Reuther against Jimmy Hoffa. John Kennedy and his brother, Robert, have been the principal factors in the violent attack on Hoffa before the McClellan Committee. But up to now, Hoffa has not been destroyed. He is in command of the largest and most vicious labor union in the United States and he means to remain in that position at any cost.

There can be little doubt but that the manpower and the treasury of the Teamsters Union will be for anybody who can defeat Kennedy. The morals may be with Kennedy but not the politics.

Reuther's U.A.W. has been steadily losing members. The State of Michigan, which Reuther absolutely controls, is bankrupt and Detroit has more unemployment than is tolerable. Furthermore, Walter Reuther has become a statesman and is so busy being a great international figure that he did not watch jobs while the American automobile companies were exporting capital to all parts of the world, and cars made by foreign labor were gaining an important foothold in the United States.

As this contest develops, many curious factors appear and as they do, it becomes less certain who the candidates will be. On the Democratic side, it could be, as of today, Lyndon Johnson or Stuart Symington.

Monrovia Garden Club Meet Features Workshop

Mrs. Harry J. Smith, Ashville, was hostess to members of the Monrovia Garden Club when they met at 12:30 Monday afternoon for a covered dish luncheon.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Eugene Smith, president. The pledge to the flag was given and roll call was answered by 19 members giving favorite line arrangements.

Mrs. Herman Porter gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Raymond Grabbill gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Lloyd Neff, civic committee chairman, reported that a landscape arrangement was purchased and placed at Berger Hospital.

The flower arrangement at the school was replenished and a new flower box was placed at the soldier's monument in Five Points.

Mrs. Harry J. Smith expressed her appreciation for the floral arrangements that decorated the Alumni Banquet tables.

The August 11 meeting will be a cooperative luncheon at the country home of Mrs. Henry Young, Columbus.

Mrs. Watt again will judge the Jackson County Flower Show on July 22nd.

Dress Up Your Table When Dining Outdoors

By ELEANOR ROSS

Even if you've just a little piece of backyard, it's an outdoor dining room. And the whole family loves it.

There's a growing trend toward dressing up the outdoor dining arrangements. True, the hot dogs, the burgers and the steaks remain the same, but the setting is gay, brighter.

For instance, there's a whole new collection of tablecloths, bench covers, napkins, place mats, all designed to fit into the casual living pattern.

Sometimes you just feel like setting the stage and the wood, glass, or metal table is good enough, but it looks gay, more inviting, with a cloth on it. The benches look extra-special, too, with matching covers.

Particularly attractive are the black-and-white striped covers that some stores are featuring. All the colorful foods look so good on them—the radishes, scallions, cucumbers and lettuce, not to mention colorful salads and fruits.

Cloths and bench covers come in a choice of checks, polka dots and plaids. And it's good to know that they are made of washing machine fabrics—even easier to do than the dishes. The fabrics include cotton poplins and cotton-and-dacron blends.

If you use an automatic dryer, take the covers out of the dryer the minute it stops. Smooth them with your hands and you'll never have to worry about ironing.

If you're as weary as we are of fumbling through paper bags to find a vegetable when preparing a meal, polyethylene storage bins are a happy improvement. They come in yellow, white or copper color. Each measures 16x9x8½ inches and holds more than a peck. The bins are fine for any vegetable or fruit you don't refrigerate and convenient, too, for they stack snugly together. Frequent washing with suds keeps the bins free from mildew, onion skins and other residue from the fresh foods they hold.

A good time for washing them is the day before marketing when supplies are low.

'Guido Panzini' Due To Die As Harrington Stock Climbs

NEW YORK (AP)—As Guido Panzini, an Italian golf professional, he turned up sporadically and hilariously on Jack Paar's late evening NBC show for months. But now Pat Harrington Jr. seems scheduled for greater things in television under his real name.

The Panzini business started as a spur-of-the-moment gag about three years ago during a frolicsome afternoon in Toots Shor's fabled saloon. Harrington, then a television time salesman, and a pal took in a number of unsuspecting customers with Pat's fractured English and realistic spiel.

Ultimately, the Panzini bit landed him on his first Paar show in January, 1958, where the nation's stay - up - lates immediately took him to their hearts. Guido, during many appearances explained earnestly that, among other things:

1. He had learned English in the Italian submarine service — surfacing behind U.S. warships to watch recreation movies.
2. He was captured because he followed one ship right back to

NEW YORK (AP) — As Guido Panzini, an Italian golf professional, he turned up sporadically and hilariously on Jack Paar's late evening NBC show for months. But now Pat Harrington Jr. seems scheduled for greater things in television under his real name.

The Panzini business started as a spur-of-the-moment gag about three years ago during a frolicsome afternoon in Toots Shor's famed saloon. Harrington, then a television time salesman, and a pal took in a number of unsuspecting customers with Pat's fractured English and realistic spiel.

Ultimately, the Panzini bit landed him on his first Paar show in January, 1958, where the nation's stay-up-lates immediately took him to their hearts. Guido, during many appearances explained earnestly that, among other things:

1. He had learned English in the Italian submarine service — surfacing behind U.S. warships to watch recreation movies.

2. He was captured because he followed one ship right back to Newport watching a double feature.

3. As an international golfer he figured the most difficult hole was the third on a Tanganyika course where the green is on the other side of a pigmy village. Failure of one's two iron, he reported, means pow!—a blowgun dart in the chest.

Harrington, son of a vaudevilian, is not only flawless in Italian accents. He's magnificent in Scotch and Irish brogues, too, but for years his pleasure has been playing outrageous practical jokes.

As Guido, Harrington—who has never been even near Italy—took in Italian-Americans of the viewing audience and even the U.S. Immigration Service which made inquiries about a man whose name was not on their records. He was finally unmasked. But by this time he had established himself as one of Steve Allen's madmen, picked up a spot on the panel show, "Laugh line." During the summer he's on "Pantomime Quiz." And this fall he's signed for the Danny Thomas show. Gossip is that Thomas plans to move his own part into the background while pushing Harrington forward. Meantime, of course, Pat has quit selling TV time.

He lives with his wife and two children in the suburbs, plays golf (in the mid 70s) every morning and is extremely happy about life.

Worship Every Week ---

Wonder of Human Life Theme
At Presbyterian Church

"The Wonder of Human Life", is the theme of the Service of Worship at 10:30 a. m. Sunday in the Presbyterian Church.

This evening, if you will take the time, you, who stand upon the planet Earth may look along the ecliptic and see in succession, Mercury, Mars, Venus, Jupiter, and Saturn; five of the nine major planets in our solar system in all their awe inspiring beauty. Yet you may turn to the Word of God and read where He has His scribe say: "What is man that thou art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him?"

The Rev. Donald Mitchell will read the Scripture background for this sermon, from the Book of Psalms, chapter eight. In the choir, Mrs. Clark Will will present Mrs. Don Davis, who will sing, "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," by Rob Peery. Hymns used will include "When Morning Gilds the Skies"; "I Sing the Mighty Power of God"; and "Joyful, Joyful."

At the organ Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play: "Largo" from the "New World" symphony by Dvorak; "Ave Maria" by Henselt; and "Pompeii" by Rogers.

Trinity Lutheran

Duplicate Worship Services will be held in Trinity Lutheran Church this seventh Sunday after Trinity at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner will present the sermon, "To Forgive or Not to Forgive" based on Matthew 18:21-35.

Mr. Charles Ried will present a solo at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Mrs. Karl Herrmann will preside at the organ at both services.

Sunday School will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m. with classes for all age groups.

First Methodist

Worship services will be held at 8:30 a. m., and 10:45 a. m. Sunday in First Methodist Church. Sunday School classes will meet at 9:30 a. m.

All meetings of the day will be held in the church basement because of the redecorating process going on in the sanctuary.

"The Lord's Day" will be the theme of the morning sermon. The scripture lesson is found in Mark 2:23-28. The congregational hymns are: "Safely Through Another Week", "O Day of Rest and Gladness", "Lord of the Living Harvest."

First EUB

The Rev. O. F. Gibbs, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, has chosen the topic "The Thing That Wins" for the Morning Worship Service, at 9:30 a. m. The Senior Choir will sing, with Montford Kirkwood, Jr. directing. Miss Lucille Kirkwood will be the organist. Edwin Richardson will assist the pastor in the Worship Service.

Sunday School in the children's department will convene at 9:30 a. m. in the Service Center with Mrs. Robert Dumm in charge. Church School in the youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service. The Boy's and Girl's Fellowship will meet at 10:35 a. m. in the Service Center, with Miss Virginia Wise in charge. The pastor will serve Holy Communion in this service. Nursery care is provided during both the Worship Service and Sunday School.

St Philips

The Twelfth Sunday after Trinity will be observed at St. Philip's Episcopal Church with an 8 a. m. celebration of Holy Communion and a 10 a. m. Service of Morning Prayer. The Rev. William G. Huber will officiate at both services. At the early service, Chip Harrod will be the server. The choir, under the direction of Miss Lois Wittich, will sing at the 10 a. m. service.

Hymns to be used include: "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," "O For a Closer Walk with God," and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus!" At the Offertory, Miss Wittich will sing "Suffer the Little Children" by Hausman. Mrs. Betty Goodman will play the "Song of the Infant" by Bonnet as the organ prelude.

Acolytes serving at the 10 a. m. Service include Douglas Thompson, Mike Melson, John Wright, Tom Wright, with Stephen Ater in charge.

Mrs. Warren H. Baker will be supervising teacher for the summer session Church School which is open to all children under 8. There will also be a nursery for small children under the direction of the Nursery staff.

Calvary E.U.B.

The Rev. R. Dale Fruehling, pastor of the Circleville Church of the Nazarene, will be guest speaker at the Morning Worship Service at 9 a. m. Sunday in the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church. Mr. Earl Millrons, Sunday School superintendent, will preside.

Hymns selected for the congregation to sing are: "Marvelous Grace", "Sweet Hour of Prayer!", and "So Precious is Jesus". Mrs. Earl Millrons will preside at the organ.

The Sunday School class period will be conducted at 10 a. m. in the various classes of the youth and adult departments.

The Children's Department will meet at 9 a. m. under the direction of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, children's director.

NEW YORK (AP) — Signs of horse-trading developed in steel contract talks today.

Negotiating activity picked up as time grew closer to a threatened industry walkout at midnight Tuesday.

The industry and union bargaining teams, which met only briefly Thursday, then recessed to re-examine their positions, repeated the process today.

After a brief joint session this morning, the management and union representatives split up with a statement saying "The parties have been exchanging data and have recessed temporarily to gather additional information needed when conferences resume."

Presbyterian Group Trains
Actor-Ministers in Theater

STONY POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The Virgin Mary looked Japanese. Joseph spoke with a Portuguese accent. The Angel Gabriel was a dark, mustachioed East Indian.

It was opening night at the Barn Playhouse, a fledgling summer stock theater for strictly religious drama, sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

The chief function of the playhouse is not to make money or

The United States is the world's largest producer of eggs, with an output exceeding that of all Europe.

develop actors but to train fraternal workers (formerly called missionaries) in handling religious drama programs overseas.

"There is a strong need for good religious drama to supplement preaching in the foreign field," says playhouse director, the Rev. Norman Gano, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in nearby West Haverstraw.

"Drama involves the audience in an action which is something a sermon cannot do. What better way is there to put across the Christian message than in a simple play written in the dramatic style peculiar to local culture?"

For this reason, plays produced by the Barn are foreign in origin and many of the actors are fraternal workers or students from such places as Holland, India, Japan, Brazil or the Philippines.

One of the plays, the last of the short season ending July 24, is from Thailand, an interpretation of Genesis originally written in the Thai language. Another is Dutch.

The Rev. Mr. Gano, who directs and acts in some of the plays, is a former professional actor who appeared with the Hedgerow Theater in Philadelphia and, for a time, in off-Broadway's "Three Penny Opera."

He sees nothing strange in being an actor-minister.

"After all," he says "Church and Drama are the same in purpose. Each seeks to lift man, to help him find a better way. The theater is a spiritual medium. Everyone who's been in the theater knows that."

The unpaid actors who take part in Barn productions really learn the theater from the ground up. In addition to moving scenery and sweeping floors some even helped transform the century-old barn into a playhouse.

A good deal of the theater equipment is either second hand or purchased new at cut-rate prices. The heavy blue side curtains served on Broadway at one time and were cut down to fit. "It's good practice for setting up overseas drama programs," says the Rev. Mr. Gano. "We had to make do with what we've got. We built a lot of the equipment ourselves."

Opening night drew an audience of about 75 people, a pleasant surprise for the Rev. Mr. Gano—I'd be happy if we have 20 or 25 at each performance." There was no admission but most left a donation on the way out.

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

develop actors but to train fraternal workers (formerly called missionaries) in handling religious drama programs overseas.

"There is a strong need for good religious drama to supplement preaching in the foreign field," says playhouse director, the Rev. Norman Gano, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in nearby West Haverstraw.

"Drama involves the audience in an action which is something a sermon cannot do. What better way is there to put across the Christian message than in a simple play written in the dramatic style peculiar to local culture?"

For this reason, plays produced by the Barn are foreign in origin and many of the actors are fraternal workers or students from such places as Holland, India, Japan, Brazil or the Philippines.

One of the plays, the last of the short season ending July 24, is from Thailand, an interpretation of Genesis originally written in the Thai language. Another is Dutch.

The Rev. Mr. Gano, who directs and acts in some of the plays, is a former professional actor who appeared with the Hedgerow Theater in Philadelphia and, for a time, in off-Broadway's "Three Penny Opera."

He sees nothing strange in being an actor-minister.

"After all," he says "Church and Drama are the same in purpose. Each seeks to lift man, to help him find a better way. The theater is a spiritual medium. Everyone who's been in the theater knows that."

The unpaid actors who take part in Barn productions really learn the theater from the ground up. In addition to moving scenery and sweeping floors some even helped transform the century-old barn into a playhouse.

A good deal of the theater equipment is either second hand or purchased new at cut-rate prices. The heavy blue side curtains served on Broadway at one time and were cut down to fit. "It's good practice for setting up overseas drama programs," says the Rev. Mr. Gano. "We had to make do with what we've got. We built a lot of the equipment ourselves."

Opening night drew an audience of about 75 people, a pleasant surprise for the Rev. Mr. Gano—I'd be happy if we have 20 or 25 at each performance". There was no admission but most left a donation on the way out.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The sight of a child playing in the sun — a reflection of God's goodness!

At such moments, children seem like echoes of God's love. In their own boundless joy, with their unquenchable enthusiasm, they point the way to truth, love, faith and beauty.

It is a way all of us can follow. By turning to God with a child's simplicity, by seeking Him through the Church, we can emerge from life's shadows and stand again in the full light of eternal truth.

Find your way to church . . . this Sunday.

McLish, Minoso Save Tribe Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cal McLish and Minnie Minoso, a couple of players who have had their ups and downs — perhaps more of the latter than the former — over the years could take the bows today for saving Cleveland's American League lead.

McLish, a veteran Oklahoman who broke into major league baseball as a Dodger whiz kid some 15 years ago, recorded his 11th victory of the season against three defeats Friday night as the Indians turned back the second-place White Sox 8-4 in a rain-delayed game and increased their lead to two games. Minoso was the leader in two rallies that ruined Early Wynn's hopes.

The Washington Senators, held homeless and shut out twice by Baltimore on Thursday, unleashed their power again Friday night, hit four homers and downed the Orioles 7-6. The Boston Red Sox, with Bobby Avila and Ted Williams again leading the way, knocked off the Yankees a second time 8-5.

The Detroit Tigers, also double-shutout victims on Thursday, ended a six-game losing streak when Jim Bunning pitched them to a 5-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

The San Francisco Giants, who took the National League lead Thursday, increased their margin to a full game with an 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a game that saw eight pitchers give up 24 hits. Runner-up Los Angeles and third-place Milwaukee were rained out in the second game of their series.

Dick Stuart's 17th homer of the season, with two aboard in the 11th inning, capped a four-run plurage that brought the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The St. Louis Cardinals, scoring eight in the sixth inning, beat Philadelphia 9-7.

Minoso, Tito Francona and Rocky Colavito were the Indian hitters who handed Early Wynn his sixth defeat against 12 victories. Minnie hit two singles and scored twice. Francona had four hits and drove in three runs and Colavito knocked in three runs with three hits.

Washington blasted starter John Fisher early and hard, gaining a 7-2 lead on homers by Ken Aspromonte, Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew and Roy Sievers. But the Orioles got to Camilo Pascual and Tex Clevenger for four runs in the eighth before Billy Conso snuffed out the rally with a leaping one-hand catch of Albie Pearson's liner.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel took a chance on starting Whitey Ford in Boston's Fenway Park, a trouble spot for southpaws. Ford found the trouble in the fourth inning when Avila and Williams contributed singles and the Yanks contributed three errors to a five-run Boston outburst. The Yanks came back to make it 5-4, but the Sox got three more runs on Marty Keoughs pinch double, singles by Avila and Jackie Jensen and a double by Williams.

Williams now has hit safely in 8 of his last 13 times at bat. Bunning allowed the Athletics only seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer that tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth, but Ted Lepcio sewed up the victory with a two-run homer off reliever Bob Grim in the sixth.

The young rider also won the Model Pony gelding class on "Little Wonder", along with the Model Pony stallion class on "Gunsmoke". She also placed fourth in the harness class with "Gunsmoke".

All-Cincinnati Lineup Set for Golf Semifinals

Only Queen City's Able to Survive in Ohio Amateur Test

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four Cincinnatians, having repelled all invaders, made up the entire cast today as the 53rd Ohio Amateur Golf Championship went into its 36-hole semifinals round.

Winners of today's matches meet Sunday over the 36-hole route to determine the 1959 titleholder. There wasn't a favorite among the Queen City quartet. Each is given an even chance to succeed Youngstown's 20-year-old Dick Schwartz on the throne.

Tony Blom, 31-year-old salesman, ousted Schwartz in Friday's third round—his third straight victory over a reigning champion.

In the first two matches, Blom defeated state collegiate champion George Bellino of Youngstown and open champion Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland.

Blom goes today against George Frankfield, 26, winner of the 1952 Ohio junior title. In the other match, Dr. Harry Duccilli, 35-year-old general practitioner, meets Jack Boyatt, 31-year-old plant supervisor.

Friday's third round results: Tony Blom, Cincinnati, defeated Dick Schwartz, Youngstown, 3 and 2.

Bob Seyler, Mansfield, defeated Rod Meyer, Springfield, 1 and 7. George Frankfield, Cincinnati, defeated Don Gruber, Cincinnati, 2 and 1.

Art Halmi, Cincinnati, defeated Al Hager, Mansfield, 1 up, 19 holes.

Dr. Harry Duccilli, Cincinnati, defeated Jim Stachi, Cincinnati, 1 up.

Bob Rankin, Zanesville, defeated John Byrne, Cincinnati, 6 and 5. Jack Boyatt, Cincinnati, defeated Ray Heischman, Columbus, 3 and 2.

Mike Podolski, Columbus, defeated Andy Augatis, Dayton, 6 and 5.

Quarterfinal results: Blom defeated Seyler, 1 up, 19 holes. Frankfield defeated Halmi, 2 up.

Duccilli defeated Rankin, 1 up, 19 holes. Boyatt defeated Podolski, 2 and 1.

Semi-final pairings: Blom vs. Frankfield; Duccilli vs. Boyatt.

Inter-Loop Trade Plan Given Nod

CHICAGO (AP) —Inter-league trading, a measure which could find top stars being traded from one major league to the other, was approved Friday by the American and National leagues.

The new rule allows clubs of one league to trade with clubs of another from Nov. 21 to Dec. 15 without waivers.

For example, the New York Yankees could trade Mickey Mantle to San Francisco for Willie Mays without getting waivers on Mantle from the seven other clubs in the league.

The rule first was passed last December but Commissioner Ford Frick asked the leagues to reconsider. The vote Friday was the same as it was last winter with both leagues in favor, the American 7-1 and the National 5-3.

Cleveland's Rocky Colavito hit 23 home runs for Daytona Beach in 1951, his first year in organized ball, to pace the Florida State League. He later led the Eastern League with 28 and the American Assn. with 38.

Herald Cinches Majors Title; Savings Retains Minors Lead

The Herald cinched the first round in the Little League majors last night with an 8-3 win over the Elks and the Savings Bank is one victory away from the first round title in the minors by virtue of last night's 15-13 win over Third National.

The Herald blazed its way to victory behind the one-hit pitching and tremendous slugging of David Bass. The versatile 12-year-old Bass fanned 13 and walked five in going the route for his fourth straight win.

At the plate, Bass smashed two home runs and a double to tally three runs and drive in six markers. Losing hurler was David Green. He whiffed nine and issued two free passes.

The Herald opened up the game with three runs, tallied one in the third on Bass's homer and four in the fifth to wrap up the contest.

THE LONE HIT off Bass was Terry Campbell's single in the initial inning. Each team committed two errors. Jimmy Dilz and Jim Wood also hit two-baggers for the Herald.

The league leaders notched their

All-Star Grid Tilt Tickets Go on Sale

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tickets have gone on sale for the 14th annual North-South scholastic all-star football game, to be played Aug. 15 at Fawcett Stadium here.

Last year's game drew 14,500 spectators, and the biggest crowd was 19,000 in 1953.

Fred George of Cleveland Cathedral Latin will coach the North All-Stars, while Bron Bacevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon will coach the South squad.

A coaching clinic will be held Aug. 10-15 at the Onesto Hotel ball room here. Instructors include Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Art Paraghi of Northwestern, Trevor Rees of Kent State, Paul Dietzel of LSU, Phil Dickens of Indiana and Tom Harp of West Point, former Massillon high coach.

A first National win would place it in a third place tie with Circleville and the Jaycees. The much jumbled minor league race will be decided next week in the final set of first round games.

CHICAGO (AP)—Tomboyish Jo Anne Gunderson of Seattle, the Mickey Mantle of women's amateur golf, and 34-year-old Marge Lindsay, whose cross-handed putting style crossed up the handicappers, battle today for the Women's Western Amateur golf crown.

Miss Lindsay, daughter of a Decatur, Ill., newspaper publisher, turned back the challenge of the younger set Friday. She trimmed 20-year-old Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., current champion of her state, 2-up, in a hectic semifinal feud at Exmoor Country Club.

Hutchinson Still Studies Losing Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred Hutchinson has just learned a bitter lesson about his new charges: The Cincinnati Reds can hit, but not necessarily in the clutch.

The new Redleg manager, who says of his stiff assignment "I like the challenge," watched the Reds Friday night carry San Francisco's league-leading Giants to 11 innings before losing, 8-6.

"I'll have to look at them play for several days," said Hutch. This was his second game as the Reds' field boss, and they lost both.

The Reds quickly found themselves in hot water Friday night but fought back and tied the score, 6-6, in the seventh inning on Frank Robinson's home run after Vada Pinson singled.

The Reds held the Giants in check the next three innings, but their own scoring punch failed.

Cincinnati banged out 13 hits off five San Francisco pitchers, compared to the Giants' 15 safeties. And the Reds matched the Giants in home runs—three to three.

But Hutch's team has yet to get the knack of consistent clutch hitting. The Giants pulled four double plays to snuff out threats.

Orlando Pena took the loss.

GE Forfeits Test To Laurelville

General Electric, failing to field a team, forfeited a night softball league game to Laurelville last night.

Games tonight at Ted Lewis Park calls for the Circleville Merchants to meet a team from Worthington in a double header exhibition. The first tilt is set for 7 p. m.

Sunday afternoon Sloutsville entertains Washington C. H. in a Southwestern Ohio Baseball League battle, with the game slated to start at 2 p. m.

Another exhibition softball tilt is set for Sunday night when Stonerock's TV hosts a Delaware team.

By DAVID BASS

Last week members of the club drew pictures. Outstanding scenes were turned in by Clarence Wilkins, "A Spanish Scene"; Dana Bass, "The House Across the Road"; and Danny Thompson, "A Large Eagle".

A doubleheader ballgame was held Wednesday and the winning team, the Mingeos, starred David Bass, Craig Lambert, Dana and Darryl Bass, Harold Maskrey and Bill Hill.

Weekly events were climaxed with a wiener roast Friday.

Jordan Eyes Sugar Ray's Middle Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tough Don Jordan of Los Angeles defended his welterweight championship convincingly Friday night. He now looks toward mid-dleweight Ray Robinson for his next bout.

Jordan, a punishing body puncher, rammed solid hooks into the ribs of 19-year-old Denny Moyer, and uppercuts to the face as he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over the young Portlander in a nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns. Several times Moyer appeared about to do down, but each time called on some hidden resources to stay upright. He still was dancing gamely about at the end, flicking left jabs at Jordan.

For Jordan it was his 11th straight victory, his third since winning the title. It makes his record now 46-11.

Moyer, who had hoped to become the youngest champion on record in the welterweight division, suffered his first loss in 21 bouts.

Of the possible fight with Robinson, Jordan's co-manager, Don Nesselth, said, "We have been offered a lot of money to fight Robinson."

He said the offer came from an Eastern promoter, but disclosed no other details. Robinson recently was stripped of his middleweight title by the National Boxing Assn., but is recognized as champion in New York.

McLish Minoso Save Tribe Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cal McLish and Minnie Minoso, a couple of players who have had their ups and downs — perhaps more of the latter than the former — over the years could take the bows today for saving Cleveland's American League lead.

McLish, a veteran Oklahoman who broke into major league baseball as a Dodger whiz kid some 15 years ago, recorded his 11th victory of the season against three defeats Friday night as the Indians turned back the second-place White Sox 8-4 in a rain delayed game and increased their lead to two games. Minoso was the leader in two rallies that ruined Early Wynn's hopes.

The Washington Senators, held homerless and shut out twice by Baltimore on Thursday, unleashed their power again Friday night, hit four homers and downed the Orioles 7-6. The Boston Red Sox, with Bobby Avila and Ted Williams again leading the way, knocked off the Yankees a second time 8-5.

The Detroit Tigers, also double shutout victims on Thursday, ended a six-game losing streak when Jim Bunning pitched them to a 5-2 decision over the Kansas City Athletics.

The San Francisco Giants, who took the National League lead Thursday, increased their margin to a full game with an 11-inning, 8-6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in a game that saw eight pitchers give up 24 hits. Runner-up Los Angeles and third-place Milwaukee were rained out in the second game of their series.

Dick Stuart's 17th homer of the season, with two aboard in the 11th inning, capped a four-run plunge that brought the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. The St. Louis Cardinals, scoring eight in the sixth inning, beat Philadelphia 9-7.

Minoso, Tito Francona and Rocky Colavito were the Indian hitters who handed Early Wynn his sixth defeat against 12 victories. Minnie hit two singles and scored twice, Francona had four hits and drove in three runs and Colavito knocked in three runs with three hits.

Washington blasted starter John Fisher early and hard, gaining a 7-2 lead on homers by Ken Aspromonte, Bob Allison, Harmon Killebrew and Roy Sievers. But the Orioles got to Camilo Pascual and Tex Clevenger for four runs in the eighth before Billy Consoled snuffed out the rally with a leaping one-hand catch of Albie Pearson's liner.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel took a chance on starting Whitey Ford in Boston's Fenway Park. Ford found the trouble in the fourth inning when Avila and Williams contributed singles and the Yanks contributed three errors to a five-run Boston outburst. The Yanks came back to make it 5-4, but the Sox got three more runs on Marty Keoghs pinch double, singles by Avila and Jackie Jensen and a double by Williams.

Williams now has hit safely in 8 of his last 13 times at bat. Bunning allowed the Athletics only seven hits, including Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer that tied the score at 2-2 in the fourth, but Ted Lepcio sewed up the victory with a two-run homer off reliever Bob Grim in the sixth.

Inter-Loop Trade Plan Given Nod

CHICAGO (AP) —Inter-league trading, a measure which could find top stars being traded from one major league to the other, was approved Friday by the American and National leagues.

The new rule allows clubs of one league to trade with clubs of another from Nov. 21 to Dec. 15 without waivers.

For example, the New York Yankees could trade Mickey Mantle to San Francisco for Willie Mays without getting waivers on Mantle from the seven other clubs in the league.

The rule first was passed last December but Commissioner Ford Frick asked the leagues to reconsider. The vote Friday was the same as it was last winter with both leagues in favor, the American 7-1 and the National 5-3.

Herald Cinches Majors Title; Savings Retains Minors Lead

The Herald cinched the first round in the Little League majors last night with an 8-3 win over the Elks and the Savings Bank is one victory away from the first round title in the minors by virtue of last night's 15-13 win over Third National.

The Herald blazed its way to victory behind the one-hit pitching and tremendous slugging of David Bass. The versatile 12-year-old Bass fanned 13 and walked five in going the route for his fourth straight win.

At the plate, Bass smashed two home runs and a double to tally three runs and drive in six markers. Losing hurler was David Green. He whiffed nine and issued two free passes.

The Herald opened up the game with three runs, tallied one in the third on Bass's homer and four in the fifth to wrap up the contest.

THE LONE HIT off Bass was Terry Campbell's single in the initial inning. Each team committed two errors. Jimmy Dilz and Jim Wood also hit two-baggers for the Herald.

The league leaders notched their

All-Star Grid Tilt Tickets Go on Sale

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Tickets have gone on sale for the 14th annual North-South scholastic all-star football game, to be played Aug. 15 at Fawcett Stadium here.

Last year's game drew 14,500 spectators, and the biggest crowd was 19,000 in 1953.

Fred George of Cleveland Cathedral Latin will coach the North All-Stars, while Bron Bacevich of Cincinnati Roger Bacon will coach the South squad.

A coaching clinic will be held Aug. 10-15 at the Onesto Hotel ballroom here. Instructors include Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, Trevor Rees of Kent State, Paul Dietzel of LSU, Phil Dickens of Indiana and Tom Harp of West Point, former Massillon high coach.

Gunderson-Lindsay To Vie for Title

CHICAGO (AP) —Tomboyish Jo Anne Gunderson of Seattle, the Mickey Mantle of women's amateur golf, and 34-year-old Marge Lindsay, whose cross-handed putting style crossed up the handicappers, battle today for the Women's Western Amateur golf crown.

Miss Lindsay, daughter of a Decatur, Ill., newspaper publisher, turned back the challenge of the younger set Friday. She trimmed 20-year-old Barbara Williams of Richmond, Calif., current champion of her state, 2-up, in a hectic semifinal feud at Exmoor Country Club.

Hutchinson Still Studies Losing Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fred Hutchinson has just learned a bitter lesson about his new charges: The Cincinnati Reds can hit, but not necessarily in the clutch.

The new Redleg manager, who says of his stiff assignment "I like the challenge," watched the Reds Friday night carry San Francisco's league-leading Giants to 11 innings before losing, 8-6.

"I'll have to look at them play for several days," said Hutch. This was his second game as the Reds' field boss, and they lost both.

The Reds quickly found themselves in hot water Friday night but fought back and tied the score, 6-6, in the seventh inning on Frank Robinson's home run after Vada Pinson singled.

The Reds held the Giants in check the next three innings, but their own scoring punch failed.

Cincinnati banged out 13 hits off five San Francisco pitchers, compared to the Giants' 15 safeties. And the Reds matched the Giants in home runs—three to three.

But Hutch's team has yet to get the knack of consistent clutch hitting. The Giants pulled four double plays to snuff out threats.

Orlando Pena took the Loss.

GE Forfeits Test To Laurelville

General Electric, failing to field a team, forfeited a night softball league game to Laurelville last night.

Games tonight at Ted Lewis Park calls for the Circleville Merchants to meet a team from Worthington in a double header exhibition. The first tilt is set for 7 p. m.

Sunday afternoon Stoutsville entertains Washington C. H. in a Southwestern Ohio Baseball League battle, with the game slated to start at 2 p. m.

Another exhibition softball tilt is set for Sunday night when Stonerock's TV hosts a Delaware team.

Last week members of the club drew pictures. Outstanding scenes were turned in by Clarence Wilkins, "A Spanish Scene"; Dana Bass, "The House Across the Road"; and Danny Thompson, "A Large Eagle".

A doubleheader ballgame was held Wednesday and the winning team, the Mingoos, starred David Bass, Craig Lambert, Dana and Darryl Bass, Harold Maskrey and Bill Hill.

Weekly events were climaxed with a winner roast Friday.

Jordan Eyes Sugar Ray's Middle Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Tough Don Jordan of Los Angeles defended his welterweight championship convincingly Friday night. He now looks toward middleweight Ray Robinson for his next bout.

Jordan, a punishing body puncher, rammed solid hooks into the ribs of 19-year-old Denny Moyer, and uppercuts to the face as he scored a unanimous 15-round decision over the young Portlander in a nationally televised bout.

There were no knockdowns. Several times Moyer appeared about to do down, but each time called on some hidden resources to stay upright. He still was dancing gamely about at the end, flicking left jabs at Jordan.

For Jordan it was his 11th straight victory, his third since winning the title. It makes his record now 46-11.

Moyer, who had hoped to become the youngest champion on record in the welterweight division, suffered his first loss in 21 bouts.

Of the possible fight with Robinson, Jordan's co-manager, Don Neseth, said, "We have been offered a lot of money to fight Robinson."

He said the offer came from an Eastern promoter, but disclosed no other details. Robinson recently was stripped of his middleweight title by the National Boxing Assn., but is recognized as champion in New York.

Give a Word to the Wise

DEAR ABBY: The man who lives next door to us ought to be ashamed of himself. At the first sign of spring, he starts working in his yard in the briefest of swim trunks. They are flesh colored and at a distance it looks like he has nothing on. Besides this he is as hairy as an ape. He is really repulsive.

I do not know him very well, but I know his wife. Should I tell her to ask her husband to wear more in the yard? My husband says it's the man's business what he wears in his own yard. I say it's our business since it's impossible to keep our daughters inside till the hedge grows. What is your opinion?

MRS. M

DEAR MRS. M.: By all means have a friendly little chat with his wife. Use diplomacy and tact and I'll bet she covers the situation before the hedge grows.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what I can do to keep my children from fighting all the time? They are 8, 6, 5 and 4. They get up at 6:30 A.M. and they are fighting by 6:35. They tease and pester each other until bedtime. I have my work to do and can't keep running to settle their fights. Please tell me what to do.

NERVOUS WRECK
DEAR WRECK: Let them play together until you get the distress signal. Don't bother to listen to the complaints. Separate them all until they get good and lonesome for each other, then expose them to one another again. Repeat the process for several weeks.

DEAR ABBY: Not one week after the death of my beloved mother I received the notice of her obituary (just as it was printed in our home-town newspaper) encased in plastic. On the other side was the Lord's Prayer. There was a request to either return it or send a dollar. I think commercializing on the death of a loved one is disgraceful. One hesitates to throw away anything as sacred as the Lord's Prayer, so I sent the money, but put the thing in a drawer. How would you have handled this?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: You are under no obligation to acknowledge, return or pay for anything you did not order. The only effective way to discourage this type of exploitation is to ignore it.

Steel Users Set for Strike

Inventories Reported To Be at High Peak

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than a third of metalworking companies used the steel labor contract extension period to correct inventory shortages, "Steel" magazine said today.

As a result, the weekly journal of metalworking continued, "most steel users are ready for anything" now—strike, settlement or another extension of the United Steelworkers' contracts which are to expire at midnight Tuesday.

Even if no strike develops, 56 per cent of metalworking firms told "Steel", they will not consider their inventories excessive. And 78 per cent of those polled said they will allow orders for July and August tonnage to stand. About one-third of the metalworking companies admit being overstocked as a hedge against a possible USW walkout.

Inventories are in better balance than they were when the 1956 steel strike started and also are estimated at around four million tons less than the 25 million tons in stock at that time.

Last week steelmaking dropped 1½ points from the previous week to 82½ per cent. The decline in ingot output in the last five weeks has been about 10 points and reflects a tapering off in demand, the July 4 holiday, and the lower efficiency because of hot weather and vacations. Wildcat strikes also curtailed production the first week of this month.

For the second quarter of 1959, steel production exceeded the all-time record of 32,444,013 tons in the fourth quarter of 1956.

"Steel's" price composite on No. 1 scrap increased by $1.17 last week to $38 a gross ton, highest since March. Heavy exports are helping scrap prices to raise, the magazine said.

GAS CHAMBER AGAIN—Caryl Chessman (above), who has been under gas chamber sentences in California for 11 years on conviction of two counts of kidnapping and criminal attack, is back at death's door—the California supreme court unanimously rejected another appeal. Chessman, 38, who authored two big-sale books while in the San Quentin death house, has based most of his appeals on the fact that the court reporter at his trial died before transcribing his notes. He argues that no one else could transcribe the testimony accurately enough.

Wildcat strikes also curtailed production the first week of this month.

For the second quarter of 1959, steel production exceeded the all-time record of 32,444,013 tons in the fourth quarter of 1956.

"Steel's" price composite on No. 1 scrap increased by $1.17 last week to $38 a gross ton, highest since March. Heavy exports are helping scrap prices to raise, the magazine said.

GAS CHAMBER AGAIN—Caryl Chessman (above), who has been under gas chamber sentences in California for 11 years on conviction of two counts of kidnapping and criminal attack, is back at death's door—the California supreme court unanimously rejected another appeal. Chessman, 38, who authored two big-sale books while in the San Quentin death house, has based most of his appeals on the fact that the court reporter at his trial died before transcribing his notes. He argues that no one else could transcribe the testimony accurately enough.

X-Ray Expert Faces Surgery For 92nd Time

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Emil Grubbe, 83, who is generally credited by medical science as the father of X-ray treatments for cancer, entered Covenant Hospital today for his 92nd operation on cancerous burns caused by his research.

Dr. Grubbe already has lost his left hand and parts of his nose, lip, jaw and cheek. In the operation next week the little and index fingers of his right hand will be amputated.

As a 20-year-old physicist, Dr. Grubbe used a beam of X-rays to treat a woman cancer patient in Chicago in January, 1896.

That was only a few months after Wilhelm Roentgen, a German physicist, discovered that invisible penetrating X-rays could be produced by sending an electrical charge through a vacuum tube. Roentgen regarded the X-ray only as a diagnostic aid.

Grubbe, however, experimented with the X-ray, badly burned his left hand and realized that if X-rays could wreak such damage to normal tissues they should also destroy cancer cells.

McElroy Rules Adoption Cases Secret

Proceedings in adoption cases should be separately recorded and not journalized or generally recorded, Attorney General Mark McElroy held in a formal opinion today.

"It was the intent of the legislature that court records in adoption cases were not to be open to general public inspection," McElroy wrote in the opinion requested by Pickaway County Prosecutor Ray W. Davis.

Davis was asked to obtain the opinion by County Probate Judge Guy G. Cline. The Probate Court on each Ohio county handles and keeps all records of adoption cases.

All minutes of official adoption business transacted in the Probate Court is required to be recorded.

SINCE ALL COURT transactions are open to public inspection, Judge Cline questioned whether this law applied to adoption cases.

According to the opinion, "the adoption petition, interlocutory order, the final decree of adoption and other adoption proceedings shall be recorded in a book kept for such purposes and separately indexed."

"Such papers, records and books concerning adoption proceedings shall not be open to inspection or copy by any person, other than parties of record and their attorneys, except upon order of the court for good cause shown," the opinion concluded.

Seward, Alaska, celebrates the Fourth of July by having a foot race up Mount Marathon, 3,022 feet high.

Vietnamese Nab Killer Suspects

SAIGON (AP) — Vietnamese security troops have apprehended several persons believed connected with killing of two American Army officers and wounding of a third at Bienhoa, an American official said today. The suspects were being interrogated and officials hoped they would reveal the whereabouts of the Communist terrorists who attacked the Americans' billet at a Vietnamese army base with submachine guns and homemade bombs Wednesday.

The victims were members of the U.S. military assistance and advisory group.

According to the opinion, "the adoption petition, interlocutory order, the final decree of adoption and other adoption proceedings shall be recorded in a book kept for such purposes and separately indexed."

"Such papers, records and books concerning adoption proceedings shall not be open to inspection or copy by any person, other than parties of record and their attorneys, except upon order of the court for good cause shown," the opinion concluded.

Seward, Alaska, celebrates the Fourth of July by having a foot race up Mount Marathon, 3,022 feet high.
